

BELGIUM

Reply To Germany Dwells On Justice Of Priority Claim

Sides With French in Contending Legality of Ruhr Occupation Has Been Established—Belgium Has Received But Little More Than England.

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Aug. 28.—The Belgian government in its reply to the last British reparations note states with France on the principal point of contention in that the legality of the Ruhr occupation has been established by the previous action of the Allies, including Great Britain, and that evacuation of the Ruhr Valley is impossible on simple promises from Germany.

The reply given out at the Belgian embassy here today dwells particularly on the justice of Belgium's claim to priority in reparations payment. It points out that thus far Belgium has received only two million marks more than Britain's Foreign Minister Jaspar asserts the whole problem of reparations and the question of interallied debts are definitely bound together and he proposes a new method of procedure in the negotiations, suggesting "conversations among the Allies without reverting to the old system of conferences."

Winston Man Is Recovering After Suicidal Attempt

(Special to The Bee.)
MARTINSVILLE, Aug. 28.—W. L. Williams, sanitary inspector of Winston-Salem, N. C., in jail here on a whiskey charge, who attempted suicide Sunday morning, is reported out of danger today and will be returned to jail this evening his condition continuing to improve.

Williams' excuse for the attempt on his own life was that he "was in trouble and didn't think he could stand it." This morning, well on the road to recovery, Williams had a different view of the matter and made the statement it is said that "he did not think he would try it again."

Sunday morning about 10 o'clock Williams got hold of some Rohypal tablets used for anesthetic purposes around the jail and swallowed them. Only by hurrying him to a hospital, where quick medical treatment was given saved his life. It is reported, friends of Williams said, that the Winston man some time this week.

Williams, who is about 38 years of age, married and the father of five children, was arrested about two weeks ago by Henry county officers while in a car with a man named Warner and families of both men. The car contained 55 gallons of liquor, which Williams claims he did not know anything about as he was only riding with Warner. Warner gave bond and was released, but so far Williams has been in custody and is thought to have been one of the causes of his despondency and attempted suicide.

—Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector of Epiphany church, is spending this week in West Virginia.

Witnesses Testify First Shot Fired By Robert Garrett

Cumberland Trial Enters Second Day—Evidence
May Be Concluded by Thursday Evening.

(Special to The Bee.)
CUMBERLAND COURT HOUSE, Va., Aug. 28.—With twenty-one prosecution witnesses for the prosecution to be examined by the jury, the trial of Robert O. Garrett, charged with the shooting of Larkin Garrett, entered its second day this morning. The defense has five witnesses to be examined and it is believed that the testimony will be concluded Thursday evening.

John T. Godsey testified this morning that Robert Garrett fired the first shot and that he did not see the minister fire at all. He said the minister began to crumble after the first shot. On cross-examination he said the minister carried a pistol as well as a shot gun.

Charles Davenport Diggs testified that Larkin Garrett fired the second shot. He did not know for certainty who fired the first shot.

James M. Shephard said Robert fired the first shot that he heard and Larkin putting his gun almost against the minister, fired next.

MUST HAVE PASS ISSUED BY JUDGE TO GET INTO COURT
By The Associated Press.
CUMBERLAND COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 28.—Entrance to the courtroom where R. O. Garrett, Cumberland county clerk, is on trial charged with the murder of Rev. S. Chester Pierce, pastor of the county's first

Investigates

Miss Sara Evans wanted to know how it feels to be swung on the side of Stone Mountain where Gutzon Borglum is carving the Confederate Memorial. So she donned knickers and was pulled up.

Dismiss Charges Against Adler

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Charges that Cyrus M. Adler, son of Max Adler, millionaire vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Company had misappropriated $15,000 from the company's fund for Milwaukee, visiting here, were dropped in the Englewood police court today.

Adler and his attorney were in court, but neither the girl nor any of her relatives were present to prosecute. Adler's attorney denied the youth had lured the girl to a forest preserve and attacked her. He also claimed the girl was five years older than she represented herself. According to Adler's story, the girl had invited him to her aunt's house and voluntarily went riding with him. His attorney hinted it was an attempt at blackmail. The girl has been taken back to Milwaukee by her parents.

Adler had a close call from rough treatment at the hands of a mob after he had stood off a number of people at the house where the girl was staying, backing out, pistol in hand. The mob chased him into the arms of a policeman who held off his pursuers by armed force until reinforcements arrived.

The charge of carrying deadly weapons also placed against young Adler, was continued until August 30.

Coolidge Hopeful of Strike Prevention

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—White House officials said today that President Coolidge believed "good progress" was being made in the effort to avert suspension of work in the anthracite fields and saw no reason to lose confidence in the outcome.

Governors Pledge Cooperation If a Strike Develops

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Governors and governors representatives of the anthracite consuming states conferring here today adopted a resolution submitted by Governor Cox, of Mass., pledging full cooperation with Federal Fuel Administrator Wadleigh in his efforts to supply the country with fuel in the event of the threatened suspension of anthracite coal mining September 1.

All collision insurance reduced 10 per cent. on new Buicks. Why? 8-27 B&R 31

Life Insurance—"Buy from Bap."

Town Topics

The contract for increasing the size of Westmoreland colored school has been awarded by the school board to H. A. Osborne and Sons. Mr. Osborne said this morning that he expected to start the work today and that it would be finished within two weeks provided fine weather is experienced. The contract provides for three schoolrooms each measuring 20 by 30 feet and will materially relieve congestion which is more acute in this city schoolhouse than any other in the city.

Jefferson street is being resurfaced from Five Forks to Paxton-street. A top dressing of oil and ground stone is being laid to give new life to the asphalt preparation which will improve its durability. This street paving is regarded as one of the best pieces of street work ever done in Danville and the surface coating, now being applied, is definite indication on the part of the city authorities to maintain streets which have been improved thereby preventing decay from setting in. The cost of the improvement will be about $1,500.

W. P. Boatwright, chairman of the charter revision commission made an engagement with City Auditor R. P. Moss today for the purpose of discussing preliminary organization plans and probably the date of the first meeting of the commission.

Roberts-Memorial Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock with Mrs. W. T. Davis, North Main street.

Tonight at 7:15 o'clock a watermelon feast will be given by Mt. Vernon Escalators at Benton Withers' farm near Pelham. Cars will leave Mt. Vernon church promptly at 7:15 o'clock.

Traffic officers have been recently turning their attention to the speed of street cars in various parts of town to see whether or not an excessive rate is being maintained. A new ordinance which permits the vehicles to run twenty miles an hour. Chief Bell said this morning that the officers had put the stop watch test to the street cars on several streets over measured distances and had found on each occasion when such tests were made that they were within the law. An official of the company says that speeding is not being indulged in and that the new schedule which is working out very well while affording quicker transportation is within the ordinance speed limit. It is pointed out that if the street cars were to run in excess of the speed limit the schedule would become irregular.

The executive committee of the Community Welfare Association met yesterday to discuss the budget in the forthcoming Community Chest drive and amendments to the by-laws of the association. Considerable discussion centered about the budget for the organization which will be $9,500, a reduction of $1,000 when compared with last year's provision for expenses in conducting the association. One reason which the appropriation this year is smaller is because it is designed to cover a twelve months period while that of the last drive was for fourteen months. Another reason is a slight reduction in salaries. Owing to the growth out side relief a larger portion of the money used by the association will be directed along this channel where effective work is being done. The committee yesterday made provision for the immediate needs of the outside relief work to put the carrying on of the work until the revenue derived in the coming drive is available. The committee, it is understood, favors a reorganization of the association and believes that the source of the budget should be shared with membership in the Community Welfare Association. Also that in addition to the executive committee, there should be an advisory board.

City Health Officer R. W. Garnett reported today that a case of typhoid fever has developed near the city in the vicinity of Tippet's Crossing, a bar being stolen with a maul. The source of infection has been fairly definitely traced to Fall Creek, where the lad is said to have bathed recently. Dr. Garnett pointed out that this is a polluted stream, just as Dan River is and that care should be exercised in the selection of "swimming holes." Dr. Garnett is trying to learn the identity of the patient's companions who went in bathing with him in order that some preventive steps may be taken so that possible infection can be warned off.

Advices received from New York this afternoon were to the effect that the Southern Demonstration Community House, Child Health Center which the National Child Health Association proposes to establish in a Southern City would not today decide on the location. It was added that the site of the center would not be determined for several days to come. Courtenay Diswiddle who was here a few days ago for further conferences with Danville authorities on leaving said that he would call the committee to meet probably today and that a decision would be made then. Today's advices indicate that no decision is likely to be made this week.

Friends of Rev. M. W. Royall who for even years was pastor of Lee Street Baptist church of this city will be interested to learn that he has accepted a call to become pastor of the Cole Avenue Baptist Church at Dallas, Texas and that he has already assumed his new pastoral duties preaching his first sermon on August 18th. Mr. Royall left here for Fort Worth where he said he would prepare himself for the evangelistic field. The church to which he has been called is a large one.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement was made today of the birth last night of a son, A. R. Gravelly, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gravelly.

Lee Houser (right) dressed up for a picnic after he found a box of gold and currency while working on a mountain road near Hagerstown, Md., to pay his taxes. He doesn't say how much was in the box, but the sum has been estimated at $100,000. It is thought to have been cached by Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, escaped slacker. Robert E. Lee Waters (left) was digging alongside Houser, but missed the hidden treasure.

Lefty Wilson Will Stay With Danville

Is Signed by Superintendent W. C. Griggs of Public Schools Here to Direct Athletics the Coming Session—Means Murphy
Will Have His Services
Until End of Baseball Season.

"Lefty" L. G. Wilson, star pitcher for the Danville baseball club, has been signed by W. C. Griggs, superintendent of public schools here, as athletic director for the coming session. This means that Wilson will remain with the local club through the season and will not go to Greensboro to take charge of athletics as reported recently. Wilson has been released from his agreement with the head of the Greensboro high school to report there the last of this month. Since the date Wilson was acquired to direct athletics at Greensboro, the superintendent agreed to allow him to finish the baseball season with Danville. It was learned today, however, a few days ago Wilson managed to obtain his release from the obligations and was immediately signed by Superintendent Griggs.

This announcement early this afternoon will no doubt be read with a great deal of interest not only by baseball fans but also by the persons connected with the high school and the public in general. Wilson, who is a University of North Carolina man, was a leader in athletics at that college and was a star hurler on the college team. Manager Murphy acquired him at the beginning of the present season.

—Mrs. John Davis, of Lynchburg, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas, returned to Lynchburg this afternoon.

Carolina Auction Houses Open Season; Common Grades Sell High

(Special to The Bee.)
WILSON, N. C., Aug. 28.—The six auction warehouses opened here for the season today with large deliveries. It was estimated that when the sales began between 400,000 and 500,000 pounds of leaf was offered on the floors. The average for the opening day's sales was estimated at between 20 and 21 cents.

The buyers displayed more eagerness for the inferior grades, which predominated today than the better types the lower grades being relatively higher in price than the better grades. This was explained as being due to the fact that there is a world shortage of the common grades which bid fair to remain in keen demand.

TELINI AND SOORT VICTIMS OF ASSASSINS

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 28.—General Telini, president of the commission for the delimitation of the Greco-Albanian frontier; Surgeon Major Soort, the general's chauffeur and his aide-de-camp have been assassinated, says an Athens despatch to the Centar News. Word came from Janina, Albania, the message adds.

Democrats of Kentucky at the recent primary election nominated J. Campbell Cantrell, Georgetown, for the governorship. For the past 16 years he has been congressman from Henry Clay's old district, the seventh.

GOOD START AT GOLDSBORO

GOLDSBORO, Aug. 28.—The tobacco market got off to a good start today about 150,000 pounds being sold up to noon averaging about 25 cents per pound. Medium grade were chiefly in demand.

OPENING AT ROCKY MOUNT

(By The Associated Press.)
ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., Aug. 28.—About 125,000 pounds of tobacco were sold up to noon today at local auction houses bringing an average price of 26 cents a pound. Common grades were in good demand.

Tells Press How It Can Best Serve the Government

SEVERAL SHOT IN GANG FIGHT OUTSIDE COURT

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Several men were shot during a gang fight outside Essex Market court today after several members of the "Kid Dropper Gang" had been discharged because of inability to connect them with a shooting last week. The courtroom was in an uproar. A call was sent for police reserves and ambulances.

Auto Collisions Result In Blows

Details of a collision involving three automobiles and which resulted in a fatal assault, all of which occurred on Sunday afternoon on the Yanceyville road, were learned here this morning. George Smith, driving a Ford machine was approaching Danville. Another Ford bearing a Lynchburg strip on the license plate was going in the direction of Yanceyville. Not far behind the Lynchburg car was a new Dodge machine driven by Andrew Chandler. The two Ford cars sideswiped. The car in front of the Dodge was hurled against the Dodge car. Fortunately no injuries other than slight bruises were sustained. All three cars were damaged considerably.

After the collision, John Broome, one of the occupants of Smith's car, jumped out and went to the men who were in the Lynchburg car. One of the latter said something about the other driver being at fault. At this the Lynchburg man was dealt a blow to the head by Broome, which sent him staggering. He ran across the field with his assailant in pursuit. They met again but were parted by the other man in the Lynchburg car. R. E. Roberts who was passing about that time, picked up the man in Smith's car and took them on towards their destination. Phil Sutphin and two more men were also in the machine. In the Dodge, besides Chandler were men whose names were known only as Turner, Amos and Henry.

Pinchot Silent On Trend Of Parley

Quicker Service For Strawberry Sections Promised

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Railways serving the strawberry sections of North Carolina and Florida are making preparations to shorten the time of delivery of shipments to Washington Philadelphia and New York under an agreement with the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was disclosed by the commission today.

The agreement between the carriers and the commission resulted from complaints filed by shippers both in North Carolina and Florida, protesting against the slow movement of the product, which during the last winter was not delivered in New York until the fourth morning from North Carolina, and the fifth from Florida. The commission said this condition was not satisfactory and it declared the service should be improved so far as the time of transportation is concerned.

Improvement in the service will be brought about prior to next winter's movement, it is announced. The railway companies have been granted 60 days to submit a plan covering the establishment of improved service.

J. Ham Lewis Would Remove U. S. Supreme Court From Washington

(By The Associated Press.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 28.—Charles Hughes, secretary of state, was being mentioned in some circles today as a possible candidate for the presidency of the American Bar Association, whose annual convention opens here tomorrow. He is expected to arrive here today. More than 500 prominent members of the profession were here today for the preliminary to the formal opening of the convention tomorrow.

A resolution asking removal of the United States Supreme Court from Washington to "some place away from the influences of Congress" will be presented at the opening of the Bar Association by J. Hamilton Lewis, former United States Senator from Illinois, he announced today. Mr. Lewis said he opposed any move to prevent the court from declaring President Urges Undivided Alliance to Constitution And Obedience to Legis- lative Action in Reply to Newmyer.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—Undivided allegiance to the constitution and unhesitating obedience to legislative action were urged on the press of the nation by President Coolidge in a letter to A. G. Newmyer, president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, made public here today. The president's letter was in reply to one written by Mr. Newmyer, who asked him to send him a terse exclusive message for the Southern publishers, broadly answering the question, how the newspapers can best serve the government at this time, as he was anxious to have the membership of the Association cooperate with the administration in every manner consistent with their individual policies.

The letter to Mr. Newmyer who also is an official of the New Orleans Item, follows: "My dear Mr. Newmyer: Your very kind message and the general assurance which it contains of support on the part of the newspapers of your association has been received. Every newspaper can be very helpful in support of the government, whether it be state or national. Fundamentally it means making the authority of the laws supreme. It means undivided allegiance to the constitution, and unhesitating obedience to legislative action made in accordance with its provisions. Constructive criticism is always helpful. It keeps institutions from becoming fossilized and falling into decay. But constructive criticism does not accomplish its purpose by merely pointing out what is evil. It must not fail to direct attention to more emphasis to what is good. Our institutions, our social organizations, our economic condition, are all of a quality and quantity which are worthy of our highest admiration. I believe that it would be very helpful to put this sentiment in these principles and ideals can be reiterated from time to time joined with a reverence for religion and an aspiration for better things. Very truly yours, CALVIN COOLIDGE."

Holds Long Conference With Operators and Will See Both Sides Separately During Evening—His Own Proposal Ready to Be Advanced.

(By The Associated Press.)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—Governor Pinchot concluded today the first stage of his mediation in the anthracite wage controversy which attempts to tie up the mines September 1. In an executive session nearly three hours long he heard the spokesmen for anthracite operators, who explained to him why they have to date offered sole arbitration to satisfy the union demands. He saw the more representative yesterday. Again, at the conclusion of the meeting today the governor was silent as to the course of discussion. He did, however, announce that later in the day he would see both sides again and separately. Observers considered it possible that at the later sessions he would advance his own proposal for compromising the difficulties.

WEDDING LICENSES ISSUED

Wedding licenses have been issued by the clerk of the Corporation Court to the following: Floyd Jefferson Schofield and Lillie M. Taylor, Danville; Roy J. Dixon and Marie S. Phillips, both of Danville; Frank Boyd, Schofield and Lois Clayton, Danville.

Cons. 17 and see the 1924 model Buick, Dan Valley Motor Co.—Adv.

Automatic Rifles May Be Solution To Violent Crime

By L. OWEN
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Are sawed off shotguns, automatic rifles and armored police automobiles, coupled with orders to all officers to "shoot to kill" the long sought solution to the crime problem?

Authorities here and citizens too, are asking themselves that question today when, for a second time within a few months, such a program has resulted in crimes dropping to an almost irreducible minimum.

Now that they are commencing to wonder if more violence—a policy of sudden death for the thugs who start out with murderous automatic and black mask—hasn't the real effective panacea for crime, the police are ordering "shoot to kill" orders were first issued here two months ago. Within sixty hours thereafter three payroll bandits and two ordinary crooks had been shot to death by officers and eight or nine others grievously wounded. Strange to say the public did not like such drastic action being taken against even desperate criminals. Public opinion forced the police to "soft pedal" on their shooting. Meanwhile, however, there was a surprising drop in all kinds of crime.

"Shoot to kill" orders are in effect again. They were issued following weeks in which there were a score of bold holdups—nightly several daylight payrolls—robberies and almost a daily number of burglaries.
In several instances, thugs did not hesitate at shooting victims who showed resistance also there were several vicious attacks on women in connection with robberies.

Public opinion changed it demanded drastic action—quick.

Chief of Police Dan O'Brien, promptly met it by paying extra supply of shotguns, and he ordered them to virtually all officers on duty and told them what to do in non-accidental language.

"Be careful you don't shoot up any innocent person but when it's a thug, shoot him. Shoot to kill. I will stand behind you," is the gist of his instructions.

Activities did not stop there however. Two hundred police officers were put in half as many armored flivvers, each carrying an automatic shotgun loaded with buck shot and rapid fire rifle that will shoot 400 bullets a minute and set to patrolling every street in the city. Not only that but a dozen larger armored cars with a squad of similarly armed police waited in readiness at various stations to swoop down upon any hijacker who showed his head. During daylight hours the same armored cars with other officers were put to cruising the streets in a watchful quest for thugs attempting payroll robberies.

That the gauntlet thrown down by the police has had its beneficial effects for honest citizens and that thug psychology got a sudden jolt that made 'em sit up and take notice, is attested by results in the past 48 hours. Where a week ago Saturday night—the week-end is always a fruitful period for stickup men—there were almost a half hundred hold-ups, the number dwindled to only three Saturday night. The second order was an effect in that only one holdup on which the "shoot to kill" two. On the same Sunday night a week ago there were 22 holdups. And the sudden drop in the week-end is the handiwork of the police. The handiwork of the police is simply making itself scarce. It is safer, and this time the "shoot to kill" order will stick.

U. S. AND MEXICO TO RESUME THEIR RELATIONS SOON

(By The Chicago Tribune.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Diplomatic relations will be resumed between the United States and Mexico probably in the middle of the latter part of September, it was announced at the White House recently. This was the first definite official statement bearing on the question of resumption of the Obregon question and marked the first announcement of a specific date to make it complete.
The White House spokesman stated in this regard that it was impossible to set an exact date, but qualified his statement with a "best estimate" of the middle or latter part of the coming month.

Certain exchanges must yet be made between Washington and Mexico City it was explained, and these in the ordinary course of diplomatic correspondence would require some time. Details as to what these exchanges consist of were not forthcoming, though it was understood that they have to do with clarification of minor points, data concerning the exact method of procedure in the matter of announcements, the notification of other governments and similar relatively insignificant matters.

The work of the American-Mexican commission which has brought about the present understanding between the two governments, and which will culminate in the resumption of diplomatic relations as stated at the White House, began on May 14 and ended on August 15, with the formal signing by the commissioners of the minutes of their meetings, was continuing in accordance with the preliminary negotiations, to a direct exchange of views and information regarding difficulties which up to the present time have prevented an official resumption of formal diplomatic relations between the two governments.

The discussions, it has been emphasized, did not take the form of an attempt to modify Mexican law, but consisted of a presentation by Commissioners, Charles Beecher
Warren and John Barton Payne, of the American views respecting the effect of certain of these laws upon American property interests in Mexico, particularly with respect to oil and agrarian lands.

BOOSTS CALVIN FOR PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Nomination of President Coolidge as the standard bearer of his party in 1924 was advocated by Senator Weller, Republican, Maryland, in a statement made public at his office here today.

"Calvin Coolidge is the heir to the policy and organization of President Harding," he said, "and is his logical successor."
"President Coolidge as safe, conservative and fair to the other man.
He is a live wire, not a talker. He does things and is not afraid. He is efficient. When he moves he knows exactly where he is going and does not have to go back. He is devoid of show and ostentation. He exemplifies the simple American life."

FIRE DESTROYS 4-ROOM ROUSE

A four-room cottage, located on Burrill street and occupied by Mrs.
Liza Brantley and relatives, was practically destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The southside fire department, but the blaze had gained such headway when they arrived the house was virtually gutted before water had any effect. The origin could not be determined but firemen say the blaze apparently started in the kitchen.
The house had been locked up all day. Mrs. Brantley and members of the family being at work. A nephew, Percy Nestley, was seen to come from the house by a next door neighbor a few minutes before smoke came seeping through the eaves. The neighbor, a woman whose name was not ascertained, firemen say, claims that she saw Nestley come from the house. He had not gone but a few hundred yards when the smoke was seen coming from the house. The neighbor, firemen state, said that Nestley turned, around apparently looking at the house and then kept going up the railroad.

All the contents were destroyed with the exception of furniture in one room and this was probably damaged beyond use. The other rooms were practically gutted, only the framework of the structure remaining when the firemen extinguished the blaze.

EXTEND STREET CAR FARE 6 MOS. IN RICHMOND, VA.

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 27.—Extension of the six cent street car fare now in effect for an additional period of six months was recommended today by the streets committee of city council. The recommendation will be considered by the board of aldermen at a meeting September 10, and if approved, the six cent fare charged by the Virginia Railway and Power Company will continue in effect for a period of six months from October 11.

A similar recommendation was made by the streets committee sometime ago but the matter was sent back by the board of aldermen for further consideration.

Flaherty, Perfect Taxi Driver Says Smiling Won For Him

TEN RULES FOR TAXI DRIVERS

Here are the rules which William Patrick Flaherty says help make him the world's perfect taxi driver:

1. Smile.
2. Don't talk back to a policeman.
3. Be polite to passengers.
4. Keep your head.
5. Study the traffic rules.
6. Look straight ahead.
7. What you see and hear keep to yourself.
8. Learn your city.
9. Remember pedestrians always have the right of way.
10. Don't yell or blow your horn when anyone is crossing in front.

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
(Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Regard the world's perfect taxi driver. Although his experience covers 33 years of cruising over New York streets, first as caddy and later as chauffeur, William Patrick Flaherty never had an accident, never broke a traffic rule, never sassed a traffic cop, and never slammed a door on a lady's skirt.

"No," says Flaherty, "that I started out in the beginning with thinking I was never going to get into any trouble. But Flaherty, I said to myself, 'there's never any use in talking back to folks. A smile will get you a great deal further.'"

And so Flaherty, who is 50 and the father of five children, one of whom is secretary to William G. McGahey, has smiled his way in and out of all sorts of traffic congestions and into the hearts of two generations of prominent New Yorkers.

"People think traffic congestion is bad these days," he says, "but they should have seen Fifth Avenue back in the 90's when I was driving a hack.
Horses were slower, you know."

"One of the fares I remember best was Lillian Russell. She would hire my cab for hours at a time and go shopping. She was a beautiful woman.
Even people who didn't know her would stop and stare at her.
Crowds would gather around the store to see her come out. After she was through shopping I would drive her to Sherry's and she would give me a tip—always a dollar.

"I used to drive Sir Henry Irving, too, while he was in this country. He would drive around the park afternoons and he had a reputation for never giving a tip on these occasions.
But one afternoon I drove him around and he gave me $3 all in quarters."

"At night he would drive away from the theater for a little supper somewhere and he'd always give $14 to the caddy that drove him. I was lucky enough to drive him twice."

Tipping isn't so good as it was in the old days, says Flaherty.

"Then a quarter used to be considered a small tip. Today it's a dime." Flaherty's record is considered so exceptional that Maloney and Nicholson, the firm for which he works, presented him with a fine platinum watch. And Police Commissioner Enright, in presenting the watch, declared that Flaherty was a credit to the city.

SHOALS NATIONAL ISSUE

FLORENCE, Ala., Aug. 27.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, addressing an audience of several thousand persons here Friday declared that the disposal of the federal property at Muscle Shoals near here is a national issue now and will be one of the prime issues in the next presidential contest.

Screen Vamp Is Connected With Domestic Split

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—To beautiful Nita Naldi, queen of screen vamps, is attributed the reported rift in the domestic bliss of J. Searle Barclay, millionaire sportsman and his wife, before their extremely private marriage on October 8, 1907, was Mrs. Isabella Hunnewell Harriman.

Society has been stirred for weeks by reports that the Barclays have agreed to separate. Neither Searle nor his wife should confirm the report, however. Reports from Los Angeles stated that Barclay was seen constantly in company with Miss Naldi who was then in Hollywood, working on a new picture.

Barclay has been interested in Miss Naldi for five years, following the meeting of the millionaire and the actress when Nita was an unknown chorine in a Broadway revue.

Miss Naldi admitted this friendship today, but insisted that her relationship with Barclay was no salary service, that with scores of other men with that of Mr. Barclay, she said.

"It is absurd to connect my name with that of Mr. Barclay," said Nita, with an emphatic nod of her beautiful head. "Barclay and I have been friends for a long time. But I have hundreds of men friends."

Nita could not vision herself as a member of that gilded circle among whom Barclay is a familiar figure, she declared.

Nita has already risen high. Her name came rapidly as she changed from model to chorus girl and then to star at a fabulous salary. But society leaders, that is something entirely out of line of her ambitions, she asserted.

Nevertheless, her name is whispered by shocked tongues in Newport, Southampton and those few New York homes of the elite which have been reopened early this year.

Tenants at 48 East 61st street, where Miss Naldi has lived for several years, related that a handsome man about fifty years old, giving the name of "J. Barclay," has been living in the Naldi three room apartment for more than a year.

The superintendent of the building explained that Mary Rinaldi, who said she is a sister of Miss Naldi, rented the apartment two years ago at an annual rental of $2,500.

"Miss Rinaldi said she wanted the place for herself and sister," said the superintendent. "She moved in on October 15, 1921, and six months later Miss Naldi and Mr. Barclay came.

Miss Rinaldi recently admitted that Barclay and Nita were madly in love with each other. She denied that Barclay lived in the Naldi apartment, but said he spent much time there.

"Mr. Barclay is fifty two and Nita is only twenty four," she said, "but they love each other devotedly."

Twice in Miss Naldi's home. The actress was away on both occasions he had said. He closely resembles pictures of J. Searle Barclay. He said he was Nita's lover.

Nita Naldi said she was married the day before the conversation with the man who said he was her lawyer.
She refused to give the name of her husband.

"You can say I am happy," she said. "When I get ready to reveal my husband's name, I will do it—not before."

MAUDE ADAMS WILL DIRECT PICTURE "KIM"

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The summer crop of rumors that Maude Adams will return to the stage this Fall seems unlikely to be harvested, for her chief preoccupation just now is concerned with a contract for work of another sort which she has just signed with Rudyard Kipling.

Where a score of impressively backed motion picture spokesmen at once set out a number of offers, Miss Adams went to Kipling with such persuasive enthusiasm that he has now released to her the motion picture rights to "Kim."

In negotiations begun when she visited Kipling last Spring Miss Adams obtained release by promising to direct the filming in person and in accordance with the famous author's own ideas for its picturization.
Her present plan is to start for the Orient next winter and herself direct in terms of the screen the pageant table which has more of India in it than all of Kipling's other work put together, and will follow her and her canny followers from the swarming streets of old Lahore to the lonely snows of the Himalayas.

Verses of poetry are often inscribed on a picture set, to make them more attractive.

—E. C. Taylor who was hurt in an automobile accident, August 8, is able to be out again.

PAINTS & VARNISHES FOR ALL PURPOSES

The Label of a Hundred Satisfactions

Certain-teed—a composite of Certain and Guaranteed—the strongest two buying words that could be put into a trade-mark or back of a product, was coined because there was no one word with a meaning big enough, broad enough or strong enough to express the endorsement back of Certain-teed products.

The Certain-teed label is your unerring guide to certain satisfaction—quality guaranteed, your assurance of the best value for your money.

HERE ARE THE REASONS:
Overhead expense spread thinly over more than a hundred products.
One sales organization selling the varied output of many plants, ordinarily sold by separate organizations.
Plants so located as to benefit by short hauls and low freight charges on both raw and finished products.

These savings are passed on to you in better quality for a like price, or equal quality for a lower price by more than 100,000 Certain-teed dealers from coast to coast.

BUILD TO ENDURE WITH CERTAIN-TEED

LINOLEUM OIL CLOTH FLOORTAX AND RUGS

PLASTER GYPSUM BLOCKS GYPSUM

Dream Starts Police Digging for Corpse

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Vivid dreams in which the apparition of his dead father appears, with the supernatural announcement: "I am in the basement; come and get me," sent August Kolodjanski, to the police several times. The son wakes at night, he said, with his father's familiar voice in his ears. He falls into day-dreams and sees the old man's familiar figure before him.

Peter, the older Kolodjanski, disappeared July 12, 1918, from No. 3122 South Lincoln street. It is this home that August believes the bedside spirit of his father mean. Assistant State's Attorney Cranston was so impressed with the repeated dreams that he set half a dozen policemen digging in the basement.

STOMACH FELT "ALL GONE"

Wilkes-Barre Man Finds Health While Taking Paw Paw Tonic

"For many years I suffered from what may be described as an 'all-gone feeling' in the pit of the stomach," explained Charles Taylor, 101 State St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in praising Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic. "My appetite was very poor; my strength and vitality were leaving me. Nothing seemed to help me. . . I heard of Paw Paw and bought a bottle. . . I faithfully took it for little over a week and now report that my appetite is first class. There is no trouble with my stomach or bowels. I feel stronger in every way than in years. My vitality and mental power have greatly increased. . . Try Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic yourself if you have similar trouble. $1 a bottle at good drug-stores. Munyon's, Scranton, Pa."

Join in Danville by Frank B. McFall and all other up-to-date drug-stores.

A Good Thing—DON'T MISS IT.

Send your name and address plainly written together with 5 cents (and this slip) to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial package containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, "flu" and whooping coughs, and itching throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gassy pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles, and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it.

SUCH PAINS AS THIS WOMAN HAD

Mrs. Bertha Churchman of 60 Medor St., Mobile, Ala., wrote: "For months I suffered from irregularities. I had bearing down pains and cramps so badly that I didn't know what to do. Benedicta has done me a world of good. I think it wonderful." Benedicta has helped an innumerable number of suffering women, and it can help you, too. Get bottle of Benedicta from your druggist today.

J. C. McFall's Drug and Seed Store, 108 N. Main St., Trent Drug Store, 631 N. Main street, Jones Drug Store, Schoolfield, Va.

Benedicta HEALTH BUILDER for Women

NR TO-NIGHT

on tomorrow night

To Give an overworked and tired system a night of refreshing rest and bright tomorrow is the work of NR Tablets. NR keeps body functions regular, improves appetite, relieves constipation. Used for over 10 years.

Chips off the Old Block

NR JUNIORS Little NR

One-third the regular dose. Made of same ingredients, then candy coated. For children and adults.

Is Your Work Hard On Your Kidneys?

If your work wearing you out? Are you tortured with throbbing backache? Feel tired, weak and discouraged? Then look out for kidney trouble. Many occupations tend to weaken the kidneys. Constant backache, headaches, dizziness and rheumatic pains are the natural result. You suffer annoying bladder irregularities, feel nervous, irritable and worn out. Don't wait! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Workers everywhere recommend Doan's. They should help you, too. Ask your neighbor!

A DANVILLE CASE:

C. T. Jordan, carpenter, 621 Main street, says: "I had sharp pains in my back. I did heavy work which brought pressure on my back. I tried easily when I stood long, and my back gave out. I was nervous, my head ached and my kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Kidney Pills from the Patterson Drug Co. gave me relief."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Get at all Drug Stores

Richter-McMillan Co., P.O. Box 100, Buffalo, N.Y.

Ellis Broomfield Case Is Sent On

Bills Broomfield was given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Wooding this morning on a charge of the larceny of a Ford coupe from Mrs. Annie Ford, at Lexington, N. C. After a lengthy hearing and continuous squabbles by the opposing attorneys, the case was sent to the grand jury.

A summary of the evidence shows that Mrs. Ford purchased the machine from Broomfield, a boarder at that time at her home. She gave him $313, payment in full, after having given him previously with a check for $160. No bill of sale was given. Broomfield had asked her on several occasions to permit him to have use of the car and she told him that she was afraid he would lose it during his trips through the mountains. She said she drove the machine from her home to the Winston Motor Company for safekeeping and so far as she knew it was from that place the car was taken.

Broomfield, who is a Danville man, did not take the stand, although two witnesses for the defense were put on. One told of a conversation between Broomfield and Mrs. Ford in which the man said that he would get the proper papers for Mrs. Ford as soon as possible. Attorney for Broomfield then sought to bring out that the witness, Mrs. Ford, had given him trouble in liquor dealings, but objections by the Commonwealth to the questions were upheld by the court.

The car, which was identified by Mrs. Ford this morning, was in the possession of Broomfield by the local police who had previously received a telegram from Lexington requesting his arrest and asking that the car be held.

Party of Motorists Have Close Call On Mayfield Road

Details were learned today of the accident which took place several miles east on the Mayfield road in which Wayles R. Harrison, Miss Harrel James and Maitland Bustard had narrow escapes from serious injury. All were riding in Mr. Harrison's Ford roadster—the same machine which was involved in the accident which occurred on the Mayfield road in which the Sandy River bridge injured three occupants—and were proceeding to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schofield. They were approaching a bridge when the wheels struck a sandbar with the result that the car skidded and it ran diagonally against the stout metal railing which fortunately held firm. Part of the machine went over the bridge, one of the front wheels being clear and continuing to revolve in mid-air. The railing broke in two places, and flying glass caused some slight injuries. Mr. Harrison was struck on the nose and Miss James was painfully though not seriously injured about the knee. Mr. Bustard was slightly scratched, broken glass being a little about the face of the three occupants. A party of friends was immediately behind them and carried the party to their destination. Mr. Harrison, it is said, was driving at a careful rate of speed, the accident being due entirely to the quantity of loose sand at the mouth of the bridge, which twisted the car round and directed it against the bridge railing.

Mr. Harrison's other accident took place last winter, his car on that occasion proceeding down the River road and being driven over Sandy River bridge, the floor of which had been removed. No signal lights were burning. It was claimed, and the car crashed through to the creek bed before it could be stopped.

Changes Made In Southern Personnel

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 28.—Clarence E. Bogart, for 14 years chief clerk to the superintendent of the Danville division of the Southern railway, and for nearly 24 years in the employ of the Southern here, will be succeeded on September 15 by F. B. Fenderson, chief clerk to the superintendent of the Macon, Ga., division. An announcement of the change was made yesterday by L. F. DeRamus, superintendent of the Danville division, who stated that Mr. Bogart was being displaced by Mr. Fenderson because he was "too old" and that the change was "a case of chief clerk following his superintendent."

Questioned as to whether Mr. Bogart's displacement heralded a general shake-up in division officials, Mr. DeRamus said that it did not. He said that the city were to the effect that others of the present staff might be displaced within a short time.

Pres. Cosgrave Wins Election; Other Winners

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—President William T. Cosgrave has been elected on the first preference vote from Kilkenny. The president's brother, Philip, was elected from South Dublin, and both General Richard Mulcahy, minister for defense and Nevill O'Higgins, minister for home affairs of the present cabinet were also returned from Dublin. C. N. Burne, government candidate from Wicklow, also was elected.

—Miss Clara Belle Taylor, who has been visiting Miss Virginia Richardson for the past two weeks, left Sunday for Lynchburg. She will leave Saturday for her home in Lakeland, Fla.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement of the birth of a son, Clinton Allen Carter, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Vivian Carter, at Edmunds Hospital last night.

The REFEREE

By ALBERT APPLE

GASOLINE

Twenty tank cars of gasoline, of total at 16 cents a gallon by the time filling stations in South Dakota, smashed the gasoline market in that state and started price-cutting in nearly every part of the nation.

This teaches us more about the benefits of keeping competition alive than a dozen economists could get into as many textbooks.

It also teaches that everything is extremely susceptible to destruction. A small ax speedily cuts down a tree that has taken generations to grow. A lone match can cause a big fire.

HEINIE

Herbert, commercial attaché for Uncle Sam in Berlin, reports that out of every 100 members of labor unions in Germany only four were unemployed and only 15 working part time. It takes a couple of months to compile such statistics accurately. The situation may have changed since July 1, but not much.

It seems reasonable that these figures also will hold true for German workers not organized in unions. As long as 81 out of every 100 Germans are working full time, the German internal situation is encouraging. George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, is back from abroad and considers it decidedly improbable that Germany will collapse.

Three and a half million radio receiving sets are now in use in our country, according to a trade estimate. This invention has come into popularity faster than anything in history. We are quick to "take a chance" on trying out the new and improved than people were in former generations.

Incidentally, there now are 15,000 licensed amateur transmitting stations. From these and their successors will come inventions that eventually will make radio receiving sets as compact and portable as watches, placing the users in instant touch with the far corners of the earth. Radio, remember, is not yet out of the cradle.

LIGHT

The Wall Street Journal discovers that five electric signs on Broadway, New York City, use nearly 36,000 lamps—which is more than were used in the entire United States in 1884, two years after Edison brought out the first incandescent lamp.

One of the greatest achievements of civilization has been the artificial turning of darkness into daylight.

MOTHER

Results come eventually, though it takes a lot of hammering. Not many years since pensions for mothers were merely dreams of visionary reformers. Now mothers' pensions laws are in effect in 42 of our 48 states. Three-fourths of the appeals for this sort of help come from families where the fathers have died. In most other cases the father is ill or otherwise incapacitated.

Mothers' pensions involve a principle that should be extended until charity of all forms is abandoned by the whole community instead of by tagging individuals. A lot of the charity that all of us are repeatedly asked to support is a process of asking people of moderate means to take care of the "rich" of the rich.

YELLOW-BACKS

German, having lost faith in their own currency, are "salting away" so-called "yellow-backs," that some of our leading bankers are beginning to fear we'll have a shortage of this branch of our paper money.

Most of us have been noticing such a shortage as far back as we can remember.

Hughes To Clarify Stand On Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—America's policy for the Americas will be laid down by Secretary of State Hughes, August 30, in an address before the American Bar Association at Minneapolis, Minn.

In this address Hughes is expected to restate, in the light of modern international conditions, the doctrine laid down by President James Monroe just 100 years ago.

It will answer increasing queries from South American countries as to just what the doctrine provides, and why.

Hughes may follow with further discussion of the subject in an address before the Canadian Bar Association in Montreal, Sept. 4, and in Philadelphia, early in November.

Increasing interest in this country's present interpretation of the doctrine has been evidenced throughout South America since our refusal to discuss it at the recent Pan-American conference in Chile. This refusal called forth the charge that Uncle Sam doesn't wish to develop equality among the Americas, that he doesn't want to be the "big brother," but the "big boss" of other nations in the western hemisphere.

"We have searched in vain," observes the Alpha of Costa Rica, "among the flood of literature on the Monroe Doctrine for a correct translation of the famous message. We think it would be of the greatest importance for the good understanding of the two continents that the United States should, once and for all, tell us what the Monroe Doctrine is."

That, it is hoped, Secretary Hughes will undertake. How his definition will be received will depend on whether he holds to a strict interpretation of the doctrine as a policy to be gauged and enforced by the United States alone, or whether his restatement recognizes a participating interest by other nations in this hemisphere.

President James Monroe and part of the Monroe Doctrine containing its most significant sentence.

Primarily his statement will decide:

1—Whether the United States is to exercise her will in the western hemisphere through sheer strength and power, while standing aloof from the other nations of the Americas, or

2—Whether to the original Monroe Doctrine dictum of "America for Americans" there is to be joined, internationally through the inclusion of South and Central American nations, that other American motto—"In Union There Is Strength."

Moonshiners' Foe Finds Part Of His Tobacco Crop Destroyed

GREENSBORO, Aug. 28.—Under cover of darkness Sunday night two unknown men, armed with corn knives, destroyed a part of the tobacco crop of Henry Ballard, a white farmer, who resides near Colfax, and who has been actively engaged for some time in opposing bootleggers in the nearby vicinity.

Ballard, his sons and others went to the field this morning to pull the tobacco on two and a half acres. They were astonished to discover an acre and a half of the weed had been cut, trampled and beaten by unknown men during the night.

Sheriff D. B. Stafford was notified. The sheriff immediately repaired to the scene where he made an investigation, reporting on his return that the tobacco had been cut and trampled and that the identity of the two men who committed the act.

However, suspicion points to several bootleggers in the neighborhood, and it is the expressed belief that the gang will soon be apprehended.

The belief that bootleggers are responsible for the crime is reinforced by the fact that it was only a short time ago that while Mr. Ballard and family were attending a meeting of Handcuffed Boys Jump From Train Window In N. C.

(By The Associated Press)

SALISBURY, N. C., Aug. 28.—Volley and Laurence Weaver, of Asheville, who squeezed out of the lavatory window of a Southern train last night while handcuffed together, still were being sought in vain today by city and county officers.

The two boys, who were en route to the Raleigh penitentiary to serve terms on conviction of robbery of a store in Macon county, were permitted to go to the lavatory by Sheriff Moore, of Macon, who had them in charge. They looked out the door and then proceeded to squeeze out of the window while the train was near a street crossing and fled. Volley Weaver, 25, was under six years sentence, and Lawrence, aged 18, was under sentence of four years.

Marathon Fliers Still In Air

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 28.—In a plane with the same name that an express train locomotive scoops up water en route, Capt. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. J. T. Richter, circling a course above this city, today passed the 24-hour mark in their marathon.

They hopped off at 6:05 o'clock yesterday morning.

ALLISON SIGNS NEW INFELDER; LEFTY WILSON TO TWIRL TODAY

Recently the Twin aggregation was referred to as "Weak Winston" and with the tussle Allison's aggregation has been giving Danville the creator of that slogan would prefer to Jack Dempsey's Labor Day opponent as "Feeble Firpo." The present Winston club is far from weak and the pep they have acquired since "Allie" took the reins is of the best in the circuit.

Although getting a late start at the helm Allison has transformed a near non-contender into a dangerous outfit. The Twin Pilot announced this morning that in all probability a new face would appear in the Winston infield this afternoon. The late acquisition is Marlette, formerly with the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League according to the reports. Marlette is a native of a little hamlet near Winton and when he journeyed South after being given the slip in higher circles he was immediately nabbed by Allison. The newcomer has been signed up for several days but will make his first appearance in a Winston uniform this afternoon.

Manager Herb Murphy intends to start Lefty Wilson on the mound today, against the Twin sluggers and Low Kearney will be at the receiving end of the portlander's shots. Pilot Herb who has been troubled considerably with his side during this half will return to his usual position at the dish, a corner which means more strategy in the actual play and a brace-up in the heavy artillery. Manager Allison is of the opinion that McLeod, who was driven to the dugout in yesterday's game by the Danville attack, will be his choice on the mound, with Harty as a probable second. Hamby, the heavy-hitting Winston receiver, who has been out of the game for several days with an injured hand, will likely be at his usual position behind the plate.

Should June Pluvius reserve his deluge H20 over another day, the game this afternoon promises to be a thriller in every way.

KIRKWOOD UNCONSCIOUS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 27.—James Kirkwood, moving picture actor, who was gravely injured in a fall from a horse while riding at Beverly Hills, near here, last Saturday still was unconscious late today and his physicians announced that it was "impossible to state at this time" whether he would recover from the basal fracture of the skull and brain concussion suffered in the accident.

—Mrs. R. K. Mitchell and children have returned from a pleasant visit to Phospho-Lithia Springs.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm, Rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. Get it today and save all further distress.

Good Morning Judge!

John and Will Dowdy, brothers, and Weldon Stokes, the latter colored, were given hearings in the Police court this morning on charges of violating the liquor laws. John Dowdy was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail and the warrant against Will Dowdy dismissed. The negro also drew a fine of $100 and costs and a six months' term in jail. It was the second offense for the two men. Only a gallon of liquor was involved.

The arrests were made by Sergeant J. H. Martin, Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Officer O. W. Bates at Will Dowdy's store on the Yanceyville road. They testified of seeing the negro come into the store with a sack containing two half gallon jars, which proved to be liquor. Will Dowdy who was on the front porch waived him back. John Dowdy took the liquor while in the store and went to his living quarters which were adjoining.

A traffic accident which occurred several days ago at the intersection of North Main street and Bradley road, was stated and the blame placed on John Wood, who was fined $10 and costs. Wood, driving a Buick was coming out of Bradley road and Luther Hagood, driving a Chevrolet, was going up North Main street. The evidence was against Wood who is said to have made a statement that his brakes would not work. He testified in court that the brakes were alright and claimed that Hagood was too far on the left side of the street.

Howard Coleman, appeared to present his sides of a difficulty in which Coleman charged Baines with threatening his life with a pitchfork. The argument started over claims of possession of a stolen car. Baines had bought it five years ago. Baines stated that he lost it three years ago and that somebody stole it from him. Baines was placed under a recognized bond for his good behavior.

Will Keen, Ada Scott, Will Scott, Will Holland, Ernest Thomas and Ethel Bell, all colored, did not show up to answer charges of creating a disturbance and disorderly conduct as result of a "high time" gathering they had last night at a house on Newton street.

Dave Mills, colored, was fined $21 and costs for exceeding the speed limit.

Ben Hundley, colored, fined $10 and costs for not having a city permit to drive a car.

Morris and Philip Turk paid the cost of a warrant charging them with creating a nuisance by permitting boxes and trash to stand on the street.

The cost of the warrant charging Elijah Todd with assaulting Beatrice Luck, both colored, was paid and the case dismissed.

Harry Martin fined $5 and costs for not having permit to drive.

D. A. Jewell fined $21 and costs for speeding.

M. F. Payne fined $51 and costs and given a suspended jail term of thirty days for violating the Mapp Act.

Jet Adkins fined $10 and costs for not having proper lights on his car.

M. A. Laughlin, charged with the larceny of a car at Philadelphia, waived a preliminary hearing and the case was sent to the next grand jury for investigation.

Three Americans Injured When Airplane Falls

(By The Associated Press)

MAIDSTONE, England, Aug. 28.—Three Americans, whose home addresses have not been learned were among those injured when a French plane fell to earth here last night. Their names are Mrs. Douglas Smith, who is suffering from broken nasal bones and cuts on her body, Douglas Smith, who received a fractured elbow and Albert Austin suffering from shock. The three patients are being cared for in the home of a doctor near here.

"Yes! We Have No Bananas"

Still getting encores both at a concert and a theatrical performance. But have you heard Fuman and Nash sing it or the Latin Orchestra swing it into a captivating dance on Columbia Records? It's the new hit, just ask for—

The Song A-3873

The Fox-trot A-3924

At Columbia Dealers

COTTON MARKET

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The cotton market was rather nervous and irregular today. There was scattered selling on reports of rain in Texas and easy Liverpool cables. The opening was steady and the market moved 8 points lower and October sold around 24.60 during the early trading or 6 points net higher.

Cotton futures opened steady:

October	24.55
November	24.03
January	24.05
March	24.14
May	24.07

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Genuine BAYER

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets or on bottles, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years ago and proved safe by millions for:

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Fearache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacal-teser of Salicic-acid—adv.

it kills them

FLIES, FLEAS, MOSQUITOES

Bedbugs, Roaches, Waterbugs, Ants, Moths, Lice on Fowl, Weevil and many other house and garden insects are dangerous and objectionable. Kill them with

BEE BRAND INSECT POWDER

The Year 'Round Insecticide

For quick results against such insects as Flies, Mosquitoes, Roaches, Waterbugs, etc., close windows and doors in room and blow or spray BEE BRAND INSECT POWDER in the air or burn it on a shovel or tin pan.

NON-POISONOUS

Harmless to everything but insects—100% Pure Insect Powder—no adulteration—does not spot or stain. Packed in red, silking-top cans.

Sold everywhere—15c, 35c, and 70c

BEE BRAND Insect Powder Pump Gun—75c.

McCORMICK & CO. BALTIMORE

Bee Brand Insect Powder

Good Morning Judge!

John and Will Dowdy, brothers, and Weldon Stokes, the latter colored, were given hearings in the Police court this morning on charges of violating the liquor laws. John Dowdy was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail and the warrant against Will Dowdy dismissed. The negro also drew a fine of $100 and costs and a six months' term in jail. It was the second offense for the two men. Only a gallon of liquor was involved.

The arrests were made by Sergeant J. H. Martin, Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Officer O. W. Bates at Will Dowdy's store on the Yanceyville road. They testified of seeing the negro come into the store with a sack containing two half gallon jars, which proved to be liquor. Will Dowdy who was on the front porch waived him back. John Dowdy took the liquor while in the store and went to his living quarters which were adjoining.

A traffic accident which occurred several days ago at the intersection of North Main street and Bradley road, was stated and the blame placed on John Wood, who was fined $10 and costs. Wood, driving a Buick was coming out of Bradley road and Luther Hagood, driving a Chevrolet, was going up North Main street. The evidence was against Wood who is said to have made a statement that his brakes would not work. He testified in court that the brakes were alright and claimed that Hagood was too far on the left side of the street.

Howard Coleman, appeared to present his sides of a difficulty in which Coleman charged Baines with threatening his life with a pitchfork. The argument started over claims of possession of a stolen car. Baines had bought it five years ago. Baines stated that he lost it three years ago and that somebody stole it from him. Baines was placed under a recognized bond for his good behavior.

Will Keen, Ada Scott, Will Scott, Will Holland, Ernest Thomas and Ethel Bell, all colored, did not show up to answer charges of creating a disturbance and disorderly conduct as result of a "high time" gathering they had last night at a house on Newton street.

Dave Mills, colored, was fined $21 and costs for exceeding the speed limit.

Ben Hundley, colored, fined $10 and costs for not having a city permit to drive a car.

Morris and Philip Turk paid the cost of a warrant charging them with creating a nuisance by permitting boxes and trash to stand on the street.

The cost of the warrant charging Elijah Todd with assaulting Beatrice Luck, both colored, was paid and the case dismissed.

Harry Martin fined $5 and costs for not having permit to drive.

D. A. Jewell fined $21 and costs for speeding.

M. F. Payne fined $51 and costs and given a suspended jail term of thirty days for violating the Mapp Act.

Jet Adkins fined $10 and costs for not having proper lights on his car.

M. A. Laughlin, charged with the larceny of a car at Philadelphia, waived a preliminary hearing and the case was sent to the next grand jury for investigation.

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Genuine BAYER

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets or on bottles, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years ago and proved safe by millions for:

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Fearache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacal-teser of Salicic-acid—adv.

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Genuine BAYER

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets or on bottles, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years ago and proved safe by millions for:

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Fearache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacal-teser of Salicic-acid—adv.

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Genuine BAYER

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets or on bottles, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years ago and proved safe by millions for:

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Fearache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacal-teser of Salicic-acid—adv.

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Genuine BAYER

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets or on bottles, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years ago and proved safe by millions for:

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Fearache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacal-teser of Salicic-acid—adv.

THE BEE

Published Every Week-Day Afternoon

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY.
BROOKS A. JAMES, JR.,
Owner and Publisher.

TELEPHONE: 21
Business or Circulation Dept., No. 21
Editor or Reporter, No. 21

THE BEE in the city and suburbs is delivered by carrier, on their own account at 10c and 15c a week, and sold by news boys at two cents a copy.

THE BEE by mail, $4.00 a year; $2.00 six months; $1.15 three months, or 40c
a month, payable invariably in advance.

NOTES: The above rates apply only to subscriptions in advance. Rates beyond 30 days given on request. Subscribers should give prompt attention to renewals.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADV. REPRESENTATIVE
CHAS. H. HARRIS, 247 Park Avenue,
New York
Peoples Gas Bldg.,
Boston
Old South Bldg., SOUTHERN REPRESENTATIVE
GEO. M. KORN, Walton Bldg.,
Atlanta

Entered at Danville, Va., Postoffice as second-class mail matter.

Liberal space will be accorded any person or institution feeling personally aggrieved by any expression in these columns.

A THOUGHT

If thine enemy hunger, feed him;
if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.—Rom. 12:20.

A BRAVE man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it.—Pope.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1923.

PINCHOT, THE MAN FOR THE JOB.

The whole atmosphere surrounding the conference being held by Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania and the representatives of the operators and the miners in the anthracite coal controversy, is one of determination. Reports emanating from Harrisburg reflect a distinct purpose on the part of the governor to bring to terms the leaders of the two conflicting groups who thus far have failed to make those concessions which are necessary in a quarrel of such magnitude. The governor of the State in which most of the anthracite coal is mined has from the outset adopted an attitude of firmness clothed with courtesy. One almost senses a determination on Mr. Pinchot's part to stop the strike at all hazards; and that he has somewhere a trump card to play at the propitious moment. So far there has been no appeal to reason. The governor has simply told the representatives of the United Mine Workers who are insistent on the "check-off" system and on the agents for the companies operating the collieries that the suspension of work in the Pennsylvania mines must be avoided. Today or tomorrow should see Governor Pinchot's plan of mediation unfolded. Judging the executive from past standards we may look for an exhaustive effort to bring about a reconciliation through argument and persuasion. After hearing the versions of the controversy from each side, Mr. Pinchot may well be expected to strike a line and require equal concessions by both sides. Should a stubborn attitude be manifested by either side we look for the application of the methods of Roosevelt since Gifford Pinchot is a learned pupil in that school of thought, also a man fearless in action in a sense he considers to be righteous yet judicious in temperament. These are valuable qualities for a mediator in a dispute of this kind and furthermore, they are known to both sides now before him.

TO LIVE LONG.

The average American now lives to the age of 56, compared with 41 back in 1870. But, by 1950, people will have a life span of 70 years, predicts Dr. George Martin Kober, of Georgetown University Medical School.

His prediction, of course, is based on a supposition that people will increasingly live more sensibly and correctly. Four hundred years ago the average length of human life was somewhere between 15 and 20 years. And it was only 25 years, as late as 1800. A gain of about five years in two centuries. There has been a gain of 31 years in the average life span, since 1800. People live longest in New Zealand, averaging 60 years at death. In India the average age of death is before 25. The "average" figures, however, are arrived at by adding up and striking an average of all deaths, including babies. The gain has been mostly in cutting down the death rate among children, especially babies. This has raised the average. It is doubtful whether there are any more people living to "a ripe old age" than formerly. Or even as many, for that matter. The gain has been made largely in cradle years. As regards individuals who reach maturity, they seem to die at about the same average age as in former generations. As far back as 1808, experts estimated that three million Americans were constantly on the sick-list, and that 42 out of every 100 of these illnesses were preventable cases. Similar situation today. When people succumb to preventable diseases they generally are victims of their own carelessness. This carelessness in many cases results from underestimating their personal value in cold dollars and cents. For instance, take a man with an income of $3,000 a year. Now, $3,000 is 6 per cent. interest on an investment of $50,000. If the $3,000-a-year man had an auto or any other machine worth $50,000 he would insure it against every possibility of disaster, and he would care for it as if it were a priceless possession. You can imagine a radio, buy neglecting a $50,000 receiving station if he owned it. On the other hand, the $3,000-a-year man often neglects his $50,000 body as if it were an old bit of junk. Give your body a square deal. Treat it with the consideration and care that its high value deserves.

THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA WAXES FACETIOUS

(Greensboro News)
The Governor of Virginia has been first on one side and then on the other of the road question. Other things being even, he would rather be on the road side of it than the other; but things being as they are, the governor wishes to do the right thing. The test is the simple formula: Vox populi vox dei. The governor has said that William McKinley kept his ear so close to the ground that it was full of grass-hoppers. An examination of the Trinkle ear would furnish similar evidence. One thing is certain: that Mr. Trinkle, one of the governors of Virginia, was the governor who was betting his reputation as a politician against roads. The reasonable assumption would be to start out with that the Virginia electorate would give a proposal to build a state system of highways thumbs down. Governor Trinkle thinks that it what they will do.

The constructives have already been maneuvered into a position where they must fight on the defensive; the issue is permitted to be drawn between pay-as-you-go and bond-issue; and the advantage to the reactionaries is great. The real issue is between a system of state highways and "against a system of state highways"; but that is not what the Virginians are going to vote on this fall. Pay as you go is a fetich expression most frequently used by the Virginia simpletons and in our susceptibility to the infection of catch-phrases most of us are simpletons. Things being as they are in Virginia, when the Old Dominion guinea comes to the polls, the public will make a speech he waxes facetious—that, we believe, is the accepted process of reaching a state of factiousness—on the subject of North Carolina's road. They are being, in the same thing; since but for that way of financing them, North Carolina would be in the same fix Virginia is in, and is likely to continue in, in the future. Trinkle is badly mistaken. On such an occasion, there is really nothing else for the governor of Virginia to do.

TWILIGHT

So evening falls—
As still as a light-droop in old
As still as a light-droop in old Mysterious with longing and surmise,
And sad as dust that clings to ancient walls,
A white-winged wings Serenely homeward to the faltering west,
As night's cool hands anoint a robin's breast
With oils that drip with fluted echo-rhythms,
Now near, now far,
Wild hawks spin raucous circles overhead;
But chicks beneath their mother wings
In sleep, while wakes the gallant: evening star.
For summer sprays the loam With kisses intimately warm, to press
Her seal of love upon earth's loveliness.
While, hand in hand,
Down through the emerald painted evening land,
A boy and girl are slowly walking home.
—J. Corson Miller, in N. Y. Herald.

CLOSE GUARD ON IMMIGRATION IS VETERANS PLANK

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 27.—A close guard on immigration, placing a check on the number of foreigners allowed to enter this country until the domestic unemployment situation is definitely adjusted, will be recommended for adoption by the Veterans of Foreign Wars when the report of the legislative committee of that body is presented to the delegates in national encampment here. Captain E. S. Beitelheim, Jr., is chairman of the committee and probably will make his report tonight.

This report makes a series of suggestions for action to be taken by the national organization, tending toward the relief of ex-service men. It proposes that the organization pledge itself to wage an intensive campaign in every state for the enactment of the adoption by Congress of the bonus bill. Some of the high points in the report will be as follows:
"Adoption as a definite policy for a strong decentralized national rehabilitation committee, to study the conditions of disabled men, and provide suggestions for remedies."
"To urge Congress to live up to the treaty of the limitation of armaments, to the fullest extent."
"To form a national committee with a chairman in Washington to study the civil service situation with a view to giving veterans preference wherever possible in government positions."
"Keep a close check on immigration until the unemployment situation in this country is relieved, and then to study the immigrant, making a check on their mental qualifications, the antecedents and their general fitness to become American citizens."
"To promote the ideals of Americanism from the children in the schools, teaching them to respect the flag and reasons therefor."
"To encourage citizens' military training camp, if for no other reason than to keep men in good physical condition, to render them fit for service when the need arises."
"To wage an intensive campaign in every state for the enactment of the bonus bill."
"To secure legislation for the relief of all maimed soldiers of the American war."

Scoop's Colyum

DRAKES BRANCH, August 28.—Sparks from the Radio:
"Do you know what the word 'Yes' means?" said Mr. Simpkins to the Mrs. "I have a great surprise prepared for tomorrow, which is the anniversary of our marriage. It will be twenty-five years since we swore eternal love at the altar."
"Truly, dear Simp," sighed Gladys.
"Do you remember how pale I was when you blushed like a carnation when we stood up before the congregation?"
"Don't I? I thought I would faint when I pronounced the word 'Yes' in the midst of so many people."
"After the ceremony and we had started on our honeymoon, I wished to please you in some way, but I never felt so stupid in all my life."
"It was because the act was very serious, my love."
"Do you remember when I leaned my head on your alabaster shoulder?"
"Enough, dear Simp, our neighbors can hear us. Come now, what is the surprise you have prepared for me. I wish to see it at once, Big Boy."
"Business of finding the hidden treasure." "Ah, here it is, sweetest, in oil, copied from your latest photograph," smiled Simpkins.
"Oh, how horrible!" wailed the injured spouse. "It was the face of a sick lamb. Do you mean to say that right looks like me? Where do I get a nose as flat as that and those long ears and that mouth with four corners? What a fool you are, Simp! I never thought you would do me such an ill turn. Give me the picture that I may smash it over your head!"
"But, Gladys—!" (And then a door slammed, it could be heard half a block, as Simp rushed out, his way to the cigar store to play a game of pool.)
Such is life!

NOT TOO CLOSE
"Is this near beer?"
"Yes."
"Well, it keeps its distance all right."
(Walter Adams at Atlantic City)

Perplexing "Chic."
"One of the most important questions agitating the public mind," said "Chic" Guthrie yesterday, "is whether or not President Coolidge is simply dry, or extra dry."
Infant Son of Campus Professor:
"Did you hear the staphleider fall, mamma?"
Mother: "Yes. I hope father didn't fall."
Son: "He hasn't yet. He's hanging to the picture molding."—Garboyle.

New Name for Them.
"There is a new name for the ladies who are members of the legislature," said one of the old line politicians. "They are calling them 'Legisladies.'" Pity the poor old business man.
He frequently works himself into heart failure trying to get a front seat for the Folies.

They say a Cincinnati cafe owner has been identified as a bandit. We say it sounds plausible.
Modern Style Hints.
"A fashionable line in the waist which seldom stays long where it is placed. But ambles and flees from shoulder to knees. According to popular taste."

If it wasn't for some of the expert proofreaders a lot of highbrow editors would never get by, thinks Junius.
A good house-keeper never beats a carpet when it is down, says W. E. Hurd.

Early to bed
And late to rise Keeps my money safe
From those poker guys.
Don't you know lots of people who think they are well bred, when really they are just cranks, because they have a little dough? asks Albert Hall.

The shop girl's life has a brighter side. Genevieve says after standing forgets the speed laws. The story of a Virginia fellow-medico always keeps his foot too clamping too hard on the accelerator.

"This doctor," says Grayson, "had an emergency call and was run in for speeding. Explaining to the judge, he said that under the circumstances he had thought he might hit it up a bit."
"I can't fine you for thinking, but I'll have to fine you for speeding," the magistrate decided with a show of sarcasm.
"When he had deposited his fine, the doctor turned to the judge and said:
"Since you can't fine me for thinking, I think you're a damn fool!"

President Coolidge's directness and crispness are proving in striking contrast to the rounded phrases of President Harding.
Possibly it was this desire for self-effacement that caused President Harding to refrain from telling what bought 3,250 acres of wheat land in eastern Colorado and took up life in the great open spaces.

The first year he accepted a loss philosophically, as part of the price of getting under way. But a year ago he did count on a profit. Alas, vain hope!
"The more acres I had in the more I lost," he says. "It cost all my work and trouble and $3 in hard cash for each acre I had in wheat."
"One evening as I was milking, and figuring how to meet the interest on my notes, I got a telegram from Manalapan, asking me to take a job in Washington with the Philippine Press Bureau. Did I take it? I don't know whether that cow ever got milked. I quit right there to hop a train east and I haven't been back since!"

Rear Admiral Cary Grayson, physician to ex-President Wilson, never

forgets the speed laws. The story of a Virginia fellow-medico always keeps his foot too clamping too hard on the accelerator.

"This doctor," says Grayson, "had an emergency call and was run in for speeding. Explaining to the judge, he said that under the circumstances he had thought he might hit it up a bit."

"I can't fine you for thinking, but I'll have to fine you for speeding," the magistrate decided with a show of sarcasm.

"When he had deposited his fine, the doctor turned to the judge and said:
"Since you can't fine me for thinking, I think you're a damn fool!"

THE OLD HOME TOWN

THE GHOST THAT CAUSED THE PORTER TO JUMP OUT THE SECOND STORY WINDOW AT THE CENTRAL HOTEL, LAST NIGHT, WAS LATER FOUND TO BE A MILWAUKEE DRUMMER, WALKING IN HIS SLEEP

on her feet all day long, she has a chance to stand on the street cars. This is so comfortable you are liable to eat too much.

The friends that sticks closer than a brother is named Dollar, says Jed Tompkins.

The man who goes out on a lark doesn't usually feel like singing the next day.

Recollections.
I rose and gave her my seat;
I could not let her stand—
She made me think of mother, with That strap held in her hand.

Our opinion of the Missourian who has worn a pair of pants for 25 years is that he stands up too much.

The newlywed who expects to be master of his house soon finds out that he is just the paymaster.

A One-Man Town, Eh?
"Speaking of getting 'em going and coming," says Brother Jackson, "back in the town where I hail from one man acted as preacher, physician, undertaker, and also ran the town library. I've always wondered why he didn't sell insurance as a side line."

What has become of the old-fashioned editor? A couple of drunks in a spinning automobile singing "Yes, We Have No Bananas."

It Had Plenty of Farm.
"This butter surely must come from the country," remarked the satirical humorist at the boarding house. "It comes when you come near it with a knife; it looks so pale; and it's just melting away here in the city. Then too (scrapping up what was left in the dish) it's getting rather shy."

So long as a married man's pipe and can of tobacco aren't mislaid he doesn't care how his wife arranges the rest of his things at home.

Can you imagine the girl who didn't know she was being kissed when the thing was going on right under her nose, asks Walter Adams.

Pick the bones out of the fish. It is bad manners to pick them out of your neck.

If you drink with a spoon in the cup wear a pair of goggles to keep it out of your eye.

THE YELLOW SEVEN.
RUN TO EARTH

EDMUND SNELL.
Illustrated by J. M. Satterfield

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Captain John Hewitt is Commissioner of Police at Jesselton, British North Borneo. His beautiful sister, Monica Viney, is engaged to marry Peter Pennington, detective. Pennington is detailed by the government to apprehend Chai-Hung, leader of the Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits. Pennington is assisted by his chief-of-staff, Kabet-Pai, who, having the bandit chief's latest hiding place.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Brought anything to sleep on?"
"My boy is in sole possession of a tartan traveling-rug and a waterproof sheet. The rug is inside the waterproof sheet, so it's bound to be dry."
"Well, that's good enough, isn't it?"
Dawson sighed heavily.

"It would be, if I knew where the young idiot was. Unfortunately, we lost one another a decent while back and I've a notion at the back of my head he's made himself a bivouac somewhere out of the ground-sheet and is peacefully slumbering with my rug round his dirty shoulders."
Pennington surveyed the other gloomily.

"Suppose I'll have to fix you up. What part do you want to take in the show tomorrow? How does the first storming party appeal to you?"
"It doesn't. I've put myself down already for the forlorn hope—when everything else has failed, and I've sufficient confidence in you to refuse to believe in failure. How many of these things am I supposed to take?"
"Three's a good number. Hello! here's Clay."

Keep your elbows off the table. This is so comfortable you are liable to eat too much.

When asking for the cream. Please drive the cow up this way. is considered bad etiquette.

THE YELLOW SEVEN.
RUN TO EARTH

EDMUND SNELL.
Illustrated by J. M. Satterfield

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Captain John Hewitt is Commissioner of Police at Jesselton, British North Borneo. His beautiful sister, Monica Viney, is engaged to marry Peter Pennington, detective. Pennington is detailed by the government to apprehend Chai-Hung, leader of the Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits. Pennington is assisted by his chief-of-staff, Kabet-Pai, who, having the bandit chief's latest hiding place.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Brought anything to sleep on?"
"My boy is in sole possession of a tartan traveling-rug and a waterproof sheet. The rug is inside the waterproof sheet, so it's bound to be dry."
"Well, that's good enough, isn't it?"
Dawson sighed heavily.

"It would be, if I knew where the young idiot was. Unfortunately, we lost one another a decent while back and I've a notion at the back of my head he's made himself a bivouac somewhere out of the ground-sheet and is peacefully slumbering with my rug round his dirty shoulders."
Pennington surveyed the other gloomily.

"Suppose I'll have to fix you up. What part do you want to take in the show tomorrow? How does the first storming party appeal to you?"
"It doesn't. I've put myself down already for the forlorn hope—when everything else has failed, and I've sufficient confidence in you to refuse to believe in failure. How many of these things am I supposed to take?"
"Three's a good number. Hello! here's Clay."

Dawson nodded toward the opening.
"Evening, Clay."
"Evening, Dawson! I say, Pennington, didn't you say the sign of the Yellow Seven was a warning of death?"

"That's right. Why?"
"Well, when I left you I warned straight to where I left my life. The orderly had fixed up the tent and laid out my bed. It's a decepting bug, I know, and he's never quite got the hang of it. I turned back the cover to see what he'd done—and there was this underneath."

He dropped on to the deal table a yellow Chinese playing-card with seven black dots on the upper surface.
Pennington picked it up.
"Good Lord! Have you tackled your man?"
Clay shook his head.

"That's the devil of it. I can't find him anywhere."
Pennington strode to the opening and peered out.
"Dawson had better stop here," he jerked back over his shoulder. "Clay, you and I embark upon a tour of inspection. There's a weak point somewhere—and it's up to us to find it."

The district officer had drawn the blanket over his head until he was completely an Indian square.
"I suppose I'm in full charge while you're away and am at liberty to help myself to the bottle? While fully realizing the necessity for victory outposts on the eve of battle."

"The runner from Hewitt! I never thought of that! We'll interview Rab-Pai on our way round. I don't like the idea of that fellow wandering about with all that information with regard to our movements," remarked Pennington. He is in possession of a note signed by himself, into the bargain. Heavens only knows what use he intends to make of it."

The deluge had given way to a steady downpour as the two men passed Clay's tent.
The taller man, who was following close upon Pennington's heels, stopped aside to avoid a stump and hit his foot against something soft and bulky.

"I say Pennington—just a second."
The other stopped and came slowly back.

"As far as I'm aware, nobody's broken out. I can't for the life of me imagine what it was they stumbled in. It was evidently something important, because they weren't inclined to save rounds to secure its safety."

He glanced behind him. "Your fellows should be pretty fresh by now. I fancy I'll try a sortie with my own charge and take home with me some of the enemy's booty. I'll be back in half an hour."

When hubby cooks supper, invite the doctor and the dentist.

A man will brag about his own cooking. If his wife cooked like it he would eat at a restaurant.

The way to tell salt and sugar apart is the other one is the one you think you have.

Take the guard off an electric fan. bend blades may cut. Now you have a fine egg beater.

Anything may be kept cool forever by trying to boil quickly when the gas is bad.

All you need for opening cans is a small can opener and a big bottle of iodine.

Keep a cat in the kitchen. When you spill something kicking the cat helps wonderfully.

Cook with olive oil instead of lard. It makes the hair grow.

Place an asbestos guard over your thumb and you can stick it in the gravy with comfort.

Don't whistle in the kitchen. Whistling may make the sausage bark and come to you.

Soda helps burns if they are on you. Nothing helps them if they are on the meat.

Keep ants out of the sugar. Fill sugar container with salt. Then the ants will leave.

Difference between lunch and luncheon is lunch may be food while luncheon may be a salad.

It is all right to eat breakfast in pajamas, or bath robe, or what have you?

Eat slowly, chewing food well. Fast eating sets a very bad example for the flies.

The proof of the pudding is in digestion, or indigestion.

Never ask what is in the hash. You might find out.

He found Clay stooping over a prostrate form.
"What's the matter?"
"I'm not quite sure. There's a fellow here—yes, by Jove, with a knife stuck in his back. Confound it, the moon's gone in! Got a light?"

An electric flash-lamp threw a narrow silver ray.
Clay came to his feet.
"Dawson was right," he said quietly. "He was dead right."
"Who is it?"
"My orderly—that's all!"

Dawson moved restlessly in his sleep, then sat bolt upright. A hurricane was blowing outside.
He rubbed his eyes and yawned. He was still in the possession of Pennington's tent. He consulted his watch. It was close on three.

Suddenly—borne on the wings of the wind—he heard a cry, a sound of rapid firing, a babel of discordant cries, and something seared through the material above his head with a spitting, significant zip. And then—from somewhere close at hand—came the deep, drowning roar of a machine gun.
"Fie!" ejaculated the District Officer—and began lacing up his boots with nervous haste. He raked out his tunic and unbuttoned, felt to see that his automatic was there, and plunged for the open.

The night was alive with shadowy, flitting forms, with blazing torches, the incessant rattle of musketry. And still the deep-throated growl sent its warning message into the darkness.

He splashed his way through the trees, lit upon a bunch of bare-footed native soldiers that appeared to be taking no useful part in the affray, and led them in breathless haste toward the spot from which the alarm seemed to originate.

"Get down—all of you," he shouted—then fell on his hands almost on top of Clay, whose long legs trembled from behind a rock and whose cheek was pressed against a rifle-stock.

"That you, Dawson? Pennington's round on the far side at the only other possible point for them to break through."

Clay's rifle spoke.

"That was a beauty, Dawson. We've been at it for about an hour. The enemy numbers a rather considerable outfit. Can't see any more defenses nappin' and a damn or an currying something on a pole, managed to squirm their way through and join the main body. The Yellow Seven opened up to cover their approach—and we decided to attack."

He fired again. "We're advancing gradually all along the line. I've managed to take long shots at the point of the banner today."

He shouted to someone behind and a rifle was pushed against Dawson's elbow. His eye fell at the same moment upon a pile of clips at Clay's side. He thrust one into the magazine.

"Chai-Hung's still up there. I expect he's far as I'm aware, nobody's broken out. I can't for the life of me imagine what it was they stumbled in. It was evidently something important, because they weren't inclined to save rounds to secure its safety."

He glanced behind him. "Your fellows should be pretty fresh by now. I fancy I'll try a sortie with my own charge and take home with me some of the enemy's booty. I'll be back in half an hour."

Dawson waited fully five minutes by his wrist-watch, then, crawling back, murmured his men.

"Fix bayonets. Not a sound until I tell you. Spread out in skirmishing order and don't lose your heads!" Really fat people are often capable of astonishing feats! Dawson sealed the charge with the agility of an antelope. "What! With me? With enthusiasm to come up with Clay, he would round up those of the enemy that had escaped the initial onslaught.

(Continued in Our Next Issue)

This Little World

BY HARRY B. HUNT
(Special to The Bee)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—If all farmers emulated the example of Clyde Tavenner, former congressman from Missouri, Illinois, overproduction and losing prices soon would be over. There would be no production at all.

Tavenner, following his career in Congress, decided to turn farmer. He bought 3,250 acres of wheat land in eastern Colorado and took up life in the great open spaces.

The first year he accepted a loss philosophically, as part of the price of getting under way. But a year ago he did count on a profit. Alas, vain hope!

"The more acres I had in the more I lost," he says. "It cost all my work and trouble and $3 in hard cash for each acre I had in wheat."

"One evening as I was milking, and figuring how to meet the interest on my notes, I got a telegram from Manalapan, asking me to take a job in Washington with the Philippine Press Bureau. Did I take it? I don't know whether that cow ever got milked. I quit right there to hop a train east and I haven't been back since!"

Rear Admiral Cary Grayson, physician to ex-President Wilson, never

forgets the speed laws. The story of a Virginia fellow-medico always keeps his foot too clamping too hard on the accelerator.

"This doctor," says Grayson, "had an emergency call and was run in for speeding. Explaining to the judge, he said that under the circumstances he had thought he might hit it up a bit."

"I can't fine you for thinking, but I'll have to fine you for speeding," the magistrate decided with a show of sarcasm.

"When he had deposited his fine, the doctor turned to the judge and said:
"Since you can't fine me for thinking, I

Woman's Interests

Household Children Cooking Fashion

Good to the last drop

The uniformity of Maxwell House is due to the methods of cleaning, roasting and packing, embodying fifty years experience in blending a coffee unvarying in quality and cleanliness.

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

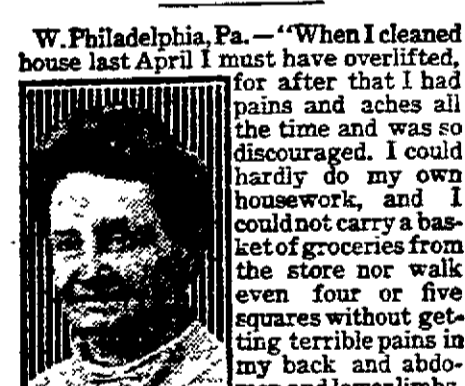

Compounded just as your doctor's prescription and dependable. You'll get positive relief from "B. C." or it will cost you nothing. Call for it by name.

B. C. Remedy Co.
At Your Doctor's Office

MRS. BUTLER'S AGES AND PAINS

Vanished After Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

W. Philadelphia, Pa.—"When I cleaned house last April I must have overworked myself, for after that I had pains and aches all the time and was so discouraged. I could hardly do my own housework, and I could not carry a basket of groceries from the store nor walk even four or five squares without getting terrible pains in my back and abdomen and lower limbs. I went to visit a friend in Mt. Holly, N. J., and she said, 'Mrs. Butler, why don't you take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My husband said that if it did her so much good for the same trouble, I should try it. So I have taken it and it is doing me good. Whenever I feel heavy or bad, it puts me right on my feet again. I am able to do my work with pleasure and am getting strong and stout. I still take the Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash." Mrs. Charles Butler, 123 S. Hanson St., W. Phila., Pa.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text Book upon "Ailments of Women."

STYLISH HAIR

For dressing the hair in the new style there's nothing to equal Nelson's which makes stubborn hair soft and very easy to manage. Nelson's gives the snap and sparkle to bobbed hair for misses and the glossy, soft, stay-combed effect for young men. Besides Nelson's is fine for the scalp and hair.

Sold by all drug stores.
NELSON'S HAIRDRESSING
Nelson Mfg. Co., Richmond, Va.

BE SURE YOU START WORK WITH THE RIGHT JOB

BY MARIAN HALE

(Special to The Bee.)
New York, Aug. 28.—Be careful of that first job. It may spell happiness and success. Too often it spells discontent and years of wasted effort.

Tucked away in the heart of New York's business district is a port for unhappy girls. It is known as the Girls' Service League. Here girls who can't get along with their parents, girls who can't get along with their bosses, girls who want to do great and beautiful things but haven't yet found themselves are taken in and sheltered and advised and set on their way again.

And a great deal of the unhappiness arises because girls are careless in their choice of first jobs, says Miss Esther Midler, director of the league's service bureau, who every year places more than a thousand girls in positions where they can make good.

"The average girl who sets out in quest of work," she explains, "decides she would like a place with the Blink Filing Company, because her chum's employed there, or maybe in the bank where her brother used to be an errand boy, or that she'd prefer a clerical job. It has such an important sound. But perhaps she isn't fitted for any of these things."

"One girl came to me who had lost one position after another. She was a stenographer, but it seemed impossible to keep her mind on her work, and her memory was poor. 'I discovered that her outstanding characteristic was a fondness for doing things for other people. She had a great wealth of affection which never got a chance to display itself at home, for her life there was unhappy.'" placed her in a home where there were several children to care for. The home's mistress took a motherly interest in her. During her spare hours she's been taking a course in nursing and now she is completely happy."

"Almost every girl wants a clerical post. Almost all dislike the thought of factory work. Yet there are wonderful chances for advancement in factories, while the clerical field is overcrowded."

"The girl seeking her first job

MISS ESTHER MIDLER

should take stock of herself, learn what she can do best, visualize the future, see what kind of position she's likely to be holding ten years later.

"Then she should look for the work she's best suited to—the kind that offers the greatest opportunity for advancement. It may pay less money at the beginning but it will pay better dividends, not only in cash, but in health and contentment, in the end."

Psychological and vocational tests, Miss Midler adds, are almost invaluable aids to the girl who has not yet found herself. The girls are willing to take them when once they understand.

Your Health

BY DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

Don't neglect a cut, no matter how trifling. Infection frequently has resulted in loss of a finger or toe. Eloquent evidence is seen in weeks of sickness. The whole system may feel the effects of careless treatment.

"Clean cuts" are made by a sharp blade passing through the cuticle, or outer skin, into the vascular, or true skin. If only the capillaries for a small vein is injured, the bleeding soon stops. If deep, an artery may be severed or muscles, tendons and ligaments injured.

If the instrument is dull, laceration of the instrument may result. Such must be carefully treated to remove dirt or foreign matter. The flesh and cuticle must be bound together to avoid scars. Wash the wound in slight cuts, wash the wound with pure water, boiled if possible. Peroxide of hydrogen is also excellent. When properly cleaned, apply iodine and alcohol in equal parts (alcohol of iodine) with a small brush or swab of absorbent cotton. Put a piece of sterilized gauze or clean white cotton over the wound and bandage.

In deeper cuts, where an artery has been injured, it may be necessary to use a ligature, to tie or bind the ends of the severed artery. In severe cases a tourniquet may be needed to prevent bleeding to death. In such a case, bind the wound between the cut and the body with a small rope, a strip of cotton or rubber bands. Insert a stick under the binder, and twist until the bleeding stops.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Camp Ozysa Closed This Week.
Miss Margaret Bullington, secretary Y. W. C. A., returned Sunday with a party of girls who had been spending the week at Camp Ozysa.

Visitor From London.
H. M. Hilton, associated with Dibrrell Bros., who for a number of years lived in Danville, now living in London, England, is being greeted by many friends in this city.

Danville Girls Honored.
(Newport News-Herald.)
In honor of her niece, Miss Margaret Ball Henkel and Elizabeth Lee Henkel, of Danville, Mrs. W. Hawkins Hughes entertained at cards Thursday afternoon at the Green Domino. There were two tables.

prize was won by Miss Lucy Robinson and the second high prize fell to Mrs. Edward Huffman. Following the game the guests enjoyed dancing. Mrs. Hughes' guests included, in addition to the honor guests, Mrs. Edward Huffman, Misses Lois Jennings, Roberta Gary, Ruth Gary, Lucy and Anne Robinson and Emilie Knight.

Library Notes.
It is gratifying to note from day to day, the number of children who come to the library, both morning and evening, to read around the table in the children's reading room.

It is interesting to note the number of boys greatly exceeds the number of girls.

Books you would enjoy:
"Alaska Man's Luck," by Hjalmar Rutbeck.

A Romance of Luck. The story of a man of the people, who forsakes life to make a home in the "Land of the Snows" for the girl he left behind. How he overcomes almost unbelievable obstacles of nature; through blinding snowstorms; his many breaks from jail; his steadfast and rewarded faith in Providence. All told in a beautiful and simple way, making "Alaska Man's Luck" an unusual contribution to current American literature.

"My Alaskan Idyl," by the same author, is the sequel of "Alaska Man's Luck" and is equally interesting in charming narrative and description.

Entertained At Maple Grove.
Last Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones delightfully entertained at home at Maple Grove, near Dry Fork, in honor of Mrs. H. A. Lester and her guests, Misses Sylvia Hingly of National Park, N. J., and Blanch Farmer, of Keeling. The house and the lawn were beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns and potted plants. A musical program was rendered throughout the evening by Miss Reba Mitchell, Walter Chaney and Mercer Henderson, and many games were played. Later in the evening the guests gathered in the dining room where a delicious ice course was served. The guests were: Misses Dissee Jones, Thelma Bryant, Elsie Tate, and Lillian Mitchell, of Dry Fork, Scottie Will, of Waynesboro, N. J., Mary Ingram of South Boston, Blanch Farmer, Grace Henderson, Louise Lester, Thelma Lester, Addie Henderson and Mrs. H. A. Lester of Keeling, and Charlotte Marshall of Keeling. Misses Sylvia Hingly of National Park, N. J., Dorothy Lester, Janie Smith, Reba Grace and Evelyn Mitchell, of Danville, Messrs. Dodd Bryant, Charlie Taylor of Dry Fork, Woodie Henderson, Wallace Marshall, Cullen Henderson, Langhorne White, Jack Henderson, Dancy White, Mack Henderson, Carroll Keese, Herman Lester, and Cooper Guerant of Keeling, Roy Henderson, Harvie Luther, Joe Benazzi and Connie White of Danville, Frank White, Roy and Coy Bishop, Ernest Overbey, Jesse Jones, and George Jones of Chatham, and Norman Atkins of Detroit, Michigan.

Persons.
—Mrs. C. H. Ball is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. J. Farley, North Main street.

—William Haymes, who is on one of the Southern tobacco markets for this season, spent the week-end with Mrs. Haymes, Stonehill apartments.

—Miss Sara Bayle, of Waynesboro, Va., who has been the guest of Miss Isabel Laylor for two weeks, returned home today.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Boatwright visited Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boatwright at Roxboro, N. C., the past week-end.

—Champe T. Barkdale is visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. Broadus, near Fredericksburg, Va.

—Miss Willie Powell has returned from a pleasant vacation.

—A. D. Starling is on a week's vacation, motoring through Virginia.

—Miss Margaret Mitchell has returned home after a delightful stay at Phospho-Lithia Springs.

—Miss Rachel Shaw, who has been visiting Miss Margaret Ragland, has returned to her home in Durham.

—Miss Lula Daly has returned to her home after visiting in Kingston, N. C.

—Miss Pauline Burgess, 609 Patton street, has returned home from Edmunds hospital. She was reported this afternoon as getting along nicely.

—Slade Cobb, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. S. K. Cobb, South Main street, has returned to Winston-Salem, N. C., where he will be located for several months.

—Rev. W. T. Doggett leaves today for Massanetta Springs where he will attend the meeting of the Virginia Presbyterian Synod.

—Miss Louise Brown, leaves today for Louisville, Georgia, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Polhill.

—Harold Schenk, Charlotte, N. C., spent the week-end in the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crews returned yesterday, from a two week stay at Blowing Rock, N. C.

—Miss Louis Crews who has been staying at Blowing Rock, returned with Mr. and Mrs. Crews.

STOCK MARKET
(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Prices resumed their upward course at the opening of the stock market. Buying embraced a wide range, initial gains of one to one and one-half points being made by Baldwin, Beech Nut, Fisher Bodies, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Gulf States Steel, American Sugar, and American Beet Sugar.

DEATH OF A CHILD
George Daniel Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Coleman died on his third birthday yesterday morning near New Design. The infant had been ill only a few days. The funeral will be held at the home at three o'clock this afternoon, interment to be made nearby.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRECOTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUISE IN CARE THE SECRET DRAWER

I have thought about you a good deal, dear little Marquise, in the weeks that I have been ill, and I wondered if the love of a king was any different from the love of any other man.

Of course, your love was different from mine, because you had to keep it in your secret heart. That must have been torture. You could never have been the woman to whom, like me, a baby was given. Possibly—oh, tragic thought—you might have been one of those distracted mothers who placed her babe upon the doorstep of some high lady of the court.

You see, I weave all sorts of stories about you. This little drawer where you and I have come at least 200 years apart is still a meeting place where one woman's soul may speak across the void to the soul of another woman.

Many things have happened since I wrote you last. Today I went driving for the first time and the dear friend who was with me at the time of the accident came to bolster up my courage and renew my faith in myself by going with me on my first trip.

"You were not to blame, Leslie," said Ruth Edington. "Anybody is liable to have a piece of the machinery in his car break. Let's not talk about it any more. It is all right now."

When we left, the baby was out with his nurse and Ruth did not see him, but during the ride twice she asked me, "Is it possible Leslie that you have not the slightest idea who put that baby in front of your door? It was very mysterious, wasn't it? I wonder why you were picked out of all the people in this great city? Have you tried to find out anything about the boy's parentage?"

I confess I was a little annoyed. I never knew Ruth before to be so curious. I presume I answered her rather abruptly when she spoke of it the second time.

"No, dear, I haven't the slightest idea to whom that baby belonged. I only know some woman's heart must have broken, some woman's life must have been laid in shattered ruins about her, some woman's future must have seemed from that moment to be a blank, as she gave that darling baby to me."

"To me, my dear Ruth, the whole thing was a miracle which some beneficent Fate worked out for me, but Jack in his usual practical manner remembered that the baby was placed in front of our door the morning after that long piece came out in the paper, explaining that they feared for my life or reason and that the doctors thought the only thing that could save me would be putting another baby in my arms."

"That seems plausible," said Ruth after a slight pause. "But I believe I never could rest without knowing something more about it."

"I haven't the slightest curiosity, Ruth. I hope I shall never know. As it is now, not only I but you and everybody else in a few years will have forgotten that the child was not born to me."

I changed the subject then, but since, little Marquise, I've been wondering what Ruth had on her mind.

TOMORROW: Another letter to the Marquise—Ruth Edington's curiosity.

Man Is Killed By Train At Crossing

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 28.—Harris Barnes, white, was killed about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a grade crossing near Wilson Mills when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by Southern railway passenger train No. 13.

The train was delayed for some time as the force of the impact derailed two trucks of the locomotive pulling the train and another engine had to be secured before the train could be moved.

The train was in charge of Conductor W. S. Witherspoon. Engineer Lewis Atkinson being in the cab. Division officials here had received only meager information concerning the wreck last night and no details of the happening were available. A telegram received at division headquarters said the wreck occurred near the 100-mile post not far from Wilson Mills.

English Church to Aid Australian Emigration

(By The Associated Press.)
MELBOURNE, Aug. 28.—The Anglican Church of Great Britain has undertaken to share with various of the State governments of Australia the cost of bringing over desirable Englishmen to settle in Australia.

In Western Australia the government and the church will each contribute a third of the transportation charges, the remainder coming from private sources, and measures have been taken for the reception, placing an after-care of British settlers from the mother country.

In South Australia, the Anglican church will undertake to assist the arrivals after they set foot on Australian soil.

Gardner's Cakes

Insist on Gardner's

Gardner's Cakes

Insist on Gardner's in Pound Packages!

...wrapped and sealed at the bakery for your protection. Wholesome—fresh and free from unnecessary handling.

Look for the label—it's your protection and our guarantee of the quality—that made the name Gardner famous.

SOUTHERN GROCERY CO.

Fashion

LESSON XXII

Daily Sewing Hints from VOGUE

HEMSTITCHING

A consideration of trimmings would be incomplete without a mention of hemstitching. When worked by hand it forms one of the most effective trimmings one can have on a dress of georgette crepe or of the lovely fresh linens, batistes, or the soft, heavy silk crepes. Its restraint and daintiness add much to delicate, hand-made lingerie.

After one set of threads of the material is pulled, the remaining ones are gathered up and bound in groups in many interesting ways, as in single, double, or diagonal hemstitching. In single hemstitching the threads are bound together along only one side of the band of drawn threads, while in double hemstitching this process is repeated on the other side of the band. Diagonal hemstitching with the small bundles of thread divided on the second edge and in turn bound together, thus forming diagonal lines instead of vertical ones as a result.

Hemstitching done with a colored thread, or hemstitching which catches colored threads along its sides gives a very decorative and striking effect.

Although dependent on the threads of the cloth for its direction this drawn-work trimming may form interesting bands or block designs and may be used to sew and give definition to tucks and folds.

With these suggestions we may pass on to the important subject of fitting.

Frock No. 6865 shows an excellent use of hand-hemstitching as trimming.

If you desire further information regarding any question of dress-making, write "The Vogue Editor," care The Bee. Your letter will receive prompt and careful attention.

(Copyright, 1923, by Vogue, New York)

Virginians Trim Twins; Greensboro Drops Two

Grandstand Gaff

Five-Game Lead.
The victory over the Twins places Danville five full games ahead in the merry chase for the Piedmont League bunting. While the Virginians were staging a ninth-frame rally for an exciting victory over the Capitals, the Greensboro team was taking a double bill from Greensboro with the result that today Danville has new neighbors just below the ladder.

Greensboro Hopes.
Following the defeat by the Capitals Greensboro is now pulling for Duncan's crew to take second half laurels from the Tobaccoists, providing Carroll's club can't recuperate and grab all honors. But with the wish it is admitted that it is a rather tough proposition to overtake the Virginians. Rightly so, me scribe, once Murphy gets these pesky Twins, referred to by some as "Weak Westons," off his hands it will be a mighty, mighty hard task for the club from the Old North State capital to slip by Danville in the percentage column.

Home Run Day.
Some of the fair fanatics just can't understand the inside of the game so on Ladies' Day Murphy's men and the visiting aggregation always try to wallop a few over the boards so that the ardent supporters in the grandstand needn't feel chagrined over the shrieks of rapture should it not be a clean hit. Ben Anderson returned to guard Allison's first sack and it was a return like Jess Willard made in the monetary way. The happy first sacker drove one over the wall in the initial frame with two comrades awaiting the word on the paths and duplicate his feat in the ninth with one on. With four satellites out of five trips up Ben was easily the star of the day with the willow. When it comes to selecting an all Piedmont club it will be hard to overlook Anderson. Trexler stood second in home run honors. His circuit clout in the second spasm drove in three runners ahead of him and placed Danville in position to win the game. The drive was of the line variety and was about the same distance up as it passed over short as it was when it galloped by the planks in left field. Trexler's home run, however, garnered his four-base blow in the third with one on. A great day for the Ruthian hitters. George Resco swung mightily but never could lift the horseshoe high enough for his favorite hit. With the result that "Trex" is leading him by two homers.

On and Off.
The defensive work was on and off. Several brilliant plays were made and a turn several had bobbles, was shaken up. "Duke" Dorman's great bare-handed stop of a hot roller in the fourth was easily the holding feature. In fact to consider the pick-up, sudden stop and throw it was one of the greatest plays of the season. Trexler stars on practically every blow near his territory and owing to his "one playing" charge does not get the praise that comes to an ordinary throw. Trexler's Ted Smith's catch in the same frame was near as sensational, while Dave Cochlin, on the hot corner, Ruhdey and Clarke, of the visitors, furnished the major bobbles. When a boulder came in his direction Dave just left it to Lady Luck and made a Highland grab at the scotching horseshoe.

Another Sensation.
The ardent little group of fans that huddles regularly around the main entrance to the grandstand couldn't hardly understand the umpiring. Ferguson and McDonald were far above their usual role and the clapping of decisions that regularly accompanies their games was lacking. Yesterday day of looking them over as yesterday will go far in obliterating the memory of that Greensboro forfeit. The decisions did not border on favoritism but were equally pleasing to both clubs.

Durham's Defeat.
Despite "Possum" Whitted and his perpetual triple the Bulls were easy victims of Hardin Herndon's Pointers. What made it all the worse was the flapping of the Piedmont pennant of 1923 over the Durham park. Eyes on the bunting the Furniture Makers took the battle cry "She ain't what she used to be"—and "she wasn't."

Labor Day Card.
With the entrance of September the jettison world will turn to the Dempsey-Furpo championship scuffle and for a little side attraction Danville will journey out to Park Springs where an interesting array of athletic events is on the bill. The promoters have placed Brooke Temple, Danville's champion of the ring, on the program and those who know the ability of the local boy feel that he will make a good showing. Brooke is considerably better with his mitts than he is given credit locally, as is usual with home-town products, and experienced fight followers think he will likely be a popular fighter to bill by another fight season.

Today's Tussle.
"Lefty" Wilson is likely to start on the mound for the Virginians today with Kearney under the mask. "Lefty" is not only a good twirler but there are five infielders in the game when the former Carolina star is working, and the attendance is always good when Wilson is billed for mound duty. McLeod, who started yesterday's game, will no doubt take the mound again today for the Twins. Manager Allison may also use a new infielder, Mariette, formerly with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

REINFORCEMENTS SENT
(By The Associated Press)
SIMLA, British India, Aug. 27.—An official report states that reinforcements of troops and police have been sent to Saharunpur, where the casualties numbered ten killed and more than three hundred injured in the religious riots. In addition four were killed and 22 injured by bullets of the police.

CAN YOU BEAT IT! Copyright, 1923, by The Evening World By Maurice Ketten

Game Won In Ninth On Splendid Rally

Danville seems to have contracted the ninth inning habit this season, adding a victory yesterday to its long string of final inning wins. The defeated team was Winston and the score was 9 to 8.

It would appear that the success of the Tobaccoists was made possible by a tactical blunder on the part of Allison, the manager of the Twins. In the eighth, with the visitors leading one run, Miller, who had pitched air-tight ball, was yanked to make way for Crowder. It was Crowder who was pounded for three hits and a victory in the final frame.

Fitcher Gibson started the game for Danville, but he appears to have been in a liberal frame of mind as far as hits were concerned, allowing 11 hits in the five and one-half innings that he twirled. He was relieved by Ellington who had worlds of stuff, allowing only two hits, one of them a home run.

Manager Murphy was out of the game yesterday on account of illness. His place at the hot corner was filled by Cochlin, who is a splendid catcher, but has a lot to learn about third base. However, the shift was the best that could be made under the circumstances. Murphy said that he intended to stay out of the game for several days in the hopes of recuperating.

The visitors started off with a rush, garnering three runs in the first inning. Leard, who hits any kind of ball and has it hard, secured a single. He was sacrificed to second by Black, went to third on Allison's short single to left. Anderson looked him over, picked out one to his liking and parked the ball, two men scoring ahead of him. Clarke followed with a single, but the next two men were easy outs and Danville came to bat.

The Murphy attempt equalled the start of the Allisonians. Dorman and Leard were walked and with the count three and two on Smith it looked as though McLeod was too timid to stay in the box. However, Smith hit an easy one to Fuhrey who bobbled the chance and Dorman scored. Leard going to third. Trexler hit to Fuhrey who threw to McCulloch, retiring Smith. Then Resco singled scoring Leard. The next two men, Regan and Cochlin retired the side via the strike-out route.

In the second Danville made four runs and an apparently safe lead. After Kearney was out at first Gibson singled. On a hit and run play he was safe at second as Dorman was going to third. Trexler came up at this critical stage and parked the ball, a hard hit ball over left field fence. Danville did no more scoring until the ninth.

The visitors added two in the third, making the score most interesting. These two scores were made possible by a homer. In fact, eight of the 17 runs came as a result of homers. Allison was out at first, but Anderson doubled. Clarke was out, Dorman to Resco, but then Cochlin lifted a high one over left field fence and the result was two more scores.

Hard hitting by the Twins in the sixth brought in two more runs and secured for Winston the lead of the game. Fuhrey led off with a single, but was out at second when Miller grounded to Cochlin. Long doubled. Miller going to third. Both men scored on Black's double.

In the ninth Anderson delivered his second home run blow and the visitors were two runs ahead of the Tobaccoists. Most of the wisecracks

Standing of the Clubs

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
DANVILLE	27	16	.623
Raleigh	22	21	.512
Greensboro	23	23	.500
High Point	21	25	.457
Winston	20	23	.465
Durham	19	26	.422

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
Richmond	62	49	.559
Wilson	61	49	.555
Norfolk	60	51	.541
Rocky Mount	57	52	.523
Portsmouth	52	56	.481
Petersburg	37	65	.363

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	79	45	.637
Cincinnati	75	47	.613
Pittsburgh	66	48	.580
St. Louis	59	63	.484
Brooklyn	57	63	.475
Philadelphia	40	79	.336
Boston	37	82	.311

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
Macon	30	22	.577
Spartanburg	28	25	.528
Charlotte	28	25	.528
Augusta	23	24	.489
Greenville	23	27	.460
Gastonia	22	29	.431

DUNDEE LOSES TO KID WAGNER

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Eddie "Kid" Wagner, of Philadelphia, decisively outpointed Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, in an eight round bout here tonight. In the opinion of a majority of newspaper men at the ring side, Dundee, throughout the fight, was within easy reach of Wagner's left. Hook after hook landed on the champion's face, practically closing his left eye in the 3rd round. In only one round of the eight did Dundee show up at all well. Five of the others were awarded to Wagner while 2 were counted as draws.

Gambling on rainfall is popular in India, where paid watchers keep a lookout for rainclouds and warn speculators to make their bets.

MAYOR HYLAN ILL

(By The Associated Press)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Mayor John F. Hyland of New York is confined to his bed here tonight suffering from what his physicians declare to be a touch of pleurisy and bronchitis. The mayor took to his bed Saturday with a temperature of 102 which tonight had dropped to 101 1/2. The physician does not consider his patients to be dangerously ill.

PASSENGER PLANE FALLS; ONE DEAD

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A French passenger airplane crashed tonight near Maidstone. One passenger was killed and the pilot and nine passengers were seriously injured.

Engine trouble developed during the flight and the pilot made for the west Malling airfield. It is believed that he would have executed a safe landing but the passengers in a panic rushed to the rear of the machine, overweighing the tail and depriving the pilot of control.

How Danville Team Bats

(Includes Yesterday's Game)

Players	Ab.	H.	Pct.
Ellington	42	5	.417
Trexler	416	152	.367
Smith	366	126	.345
Kearney	71	24	.339
Dorman	428	134	.314
Resco	165	51	.309
Murphy	375	114	.304
Leard	100	30	.300
Regan	347	101	.292
Wilson	69	18	.262
Gibson	91	24	.264
Cochlin	220	37	.169
Maitland	7	1	.143
Twombly	65	5	.078

FISH

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—The annual catch of Columbia River salmon, just completed, indicates a pack of 515,000 full cases, the wholesale value of which is conservatively estimated at over $5,000,000. The pack, though only about fifty per cent. of normal, was larger than in 1921 or 22.

SOUTHERN

Atlanta 2-3; New Orleans 1-7 (second game 7 innings agreement). Birmingham 3; Mobile 0.

Memphis 0; Nashville 5.

Little Rock 0; Chattanooga 6.

Yesterday's Results

PIEDMONT
Winston at Danville.
High Point at Durham.
Raleigh at Greensboro.

AMERICAN (Open Date)

NATIONAL
St. Louis at Philadelphia.
Cincinnati at Boston.
Chicago at New York.

PIEDMONT
DANVILLE 9; WINSTON-SALEM 8.
Greensboro 1-1; Raleigh 3-3.
Durham 4; High Point 12.

AMERICAN
St. Louis 1; Philadelphia 4.
Chicago 2; Boston 0.
Detroit 9; Washington 6.

VIRGINIA
Richmond 4; Norfolk 3. (first game) 12 innings.
Richmond 3; Norfolk 0. (second game) 7 innings darkness.
Wilson 5; Petersburg 3.
Rocky Mount 2; Portsmouth 4.

SOUTH ATLANTIC
Spartanburg 2; Macon 0.
Charlotte 2; Augusta 4.
Greenville 4; Gastonia 3.

VACUUM CUP TIRES

DOUBLE REDUCTION!

A cut in prices ranging to 15% and

A FREE TUBE with every Vacuum Cup Tire purchased.

Effective today and continuing for a very limited time only, we will give, absolutely free, with each regular Vacuum Cup Tire purchased,

ONE TON TESTED TUBE

of corresponding size

Combined price reduction and Free Tube Offer affords an approximate

SAVING OF 30%

You never have had an opportunity to buy these famous tires so advantageously. Better anticipate your requirements NOW!

K. C. AREY, Distributor

Leeland Block, Phone 1912.

Valley Forge Special

AN invigorating beverage containing the nutrient element of choice cereals, and pleasing aroma of hops.

The sparkling clarity, and its creamy top revive memories of the friendly glass.

Puts an edge on appetite—a help to digestion—a flavor that pleases—the taste that lingers.

A bottle with a sandwich—a luncheon.

A most appropriate dinner and luncheon beverage.

The one desirable, dependable beverage for the family and social circle—nothing quite so well suited for the picnic or outing and the fireside gathering.

Sold at hotels, restaurants, grocery stores and all refreshment stands. Families supplied by dealers.

Celery Cola Bottling Co.

Distributors

Phone 109 Danville, Va.

Valley Forge Special

AN invigorating beverage containing the nutrient element of choice cereals, and pleasing aroma of hops.

The sparkling clarity, and its creamy top revive memories of the friendly glass.

Puts an edge on appetite—a help to digestion—a flavor that pleases—the taste that lingers.

A bottle with a sandwich—a luncheon.

A most appropriate dinner and luncheon beverage.

The one desirable, dependable beverage for the family and social circle—nothing quite so well suited for the picnic or outing and the fireside gathering.

Sold at hotels, restaurants, grocery stores and all refreshment stands. Families supplied by dealers.

Celery Cola Bottling Co.

Distributors

Phone 109 Danville, Va.

Yankees And Giants Win; Cincinnati Splits

American League

PHILADELPHIA 4; ST. LOUIS 1.

(By The Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Hauser's two home runs with a man on base each time enable Philadelphia to beat St. Louis, 4 to 1, in the final game of the series today. The two four-baggers raised Hauser's total for the season to 16.
Score: R. H. E.
Phillies . . . 300 000 000—4 8 0
St. Louis . . . 000 001 000—1 4 0
Hasty, Rommel, Harris and Brugg; Kolp and Collins.

DETROIT 9; WASHINGTON 6.

(By The Associated Press.)
DETROIT, Aug. 27.—Detroit made its three straight over Washington today winning easily 9 to 6. Zahnner was wild, passing seven men. Detroit's hit streak hit held the Nationals in the pinches.
Score: R. H. E.
Washington . . . 020 000 040—6 11 1
Detroit . . . 000 104 011—9 11 1
Zahnner and . . . Gharriy; Dausa Cole and Bessler.

NEW YORK 10; CLEVELAND 3.

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—New York took the final game of the series from Cleveland 10 to 3, today making the series of games played in Cleveland 2 to 0 in favor of the Yankees. The two teams this year stand six victories for New York and five for Cleveland.
Score: R. H. E.
New York . . . 100 131 012—10 18 0
Cleveland . . . 000 001 000—3 8 0
Shawkey and Hoffman; Edwards, Boone and O'Neill, Myatt.

CHICAGO 3; BOSTON 0.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Ted Blankenship held Boston to 3 singles today and the White Sox won the final of the series, 3 to 0. The White Sox won the game in the first inning when E. Collins, Sheely and Barrett doubled in succession after two were out.
Score: R. H. E.
Boston . . . 000 000 000—0 3 0
Chicago . . . 000 000 000—3 0 0
Ferguson, Murray and Devormer; Blankenship and Crose.

National League

DOUBLE BILL SPLIT

(By The Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Cincinnati and Boston split even today, the Reds winning the first game, 8 to 2, and then being shut out, 7 to 0. Rixey held Boston to seven hits in the opener. In this game Roush made a home run off Genewich in the opening, with two on base. Roush's fielding was sensational. Three errors and three hits off Donohue in the first inning of the second game gave Boston 3 runs.
First Game
The score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati . . . 420 002 000—8 11 0
Boston . . . 001 000 010—2 7 2
Rixey and Hargrave; Genewich, Benton, Fillingim and O'Neill.
Second Game
The score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati . . . 000 000 000—0 7 4
Boston . . . 304 000 000—7 10 1
Donohue, Harris and Wingo; Barnes and E. Smith, Gibson.

PHILADELPHIA 12; ST. LOUIS 11.

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Philadelphia won in the 11th inning of a see-saw game with St. Louis today 12 to 11. It was real slugging match eight pitchers being battered for 35 hits. Williams hit his 10th home run of the season, passing Ruth in leading honors.
The score: R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . 302 010 140 00—11 20 0
Phillies . . . 000 318 001 00—12 15 0
Shardel, Norton, Bartlett and McGraw; Ring, Behan, Betts, Head, Glaser and Henline.

NEW YORK 8; CHICAGO 4.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The New York Yankees today today today defeating Chicago 8 to 4, while Cincinnati was breaking even with Boston. The Giants came from behind in the sixth inning, scoring seven runs on four Chicago pitchers on five hits and four bases on balls.
The score: R. H. E.
Chicago . . . 100 000 000—4 9 1
New York . . . 000 000 011—8 10 0
Osborne, Chase, Duncovich, Egan and O'Farrell; Neft, Barnes, Ryan and Snyder.

ALL FAVORITES

SURVIVE FIRST

TENNIS ROUND

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 27.—All favorites survived the first round in the men's singles of the North Carolina tennis tournament which began at the Asheville country club here today. Frank C. Hop, of Atlanta, Ga., 1922 southern singles champion and holder of the state title, came through by easily defeating W. R. Coley of New Orleans in straight sets 6-2, 6-1, 6-0. Manning of Greenville, S. C., are favorites to be the finalists in the tournament. Manning, who holds the South Carolina singles championship, will swing into action tomorrow against W. R. Barrow of Asheville.
Men's double will start tomorrow and will be followed Wednesday by ladies events and mixed doubles. Rain interfered with the play this afternoon. Only 36 entries were received.

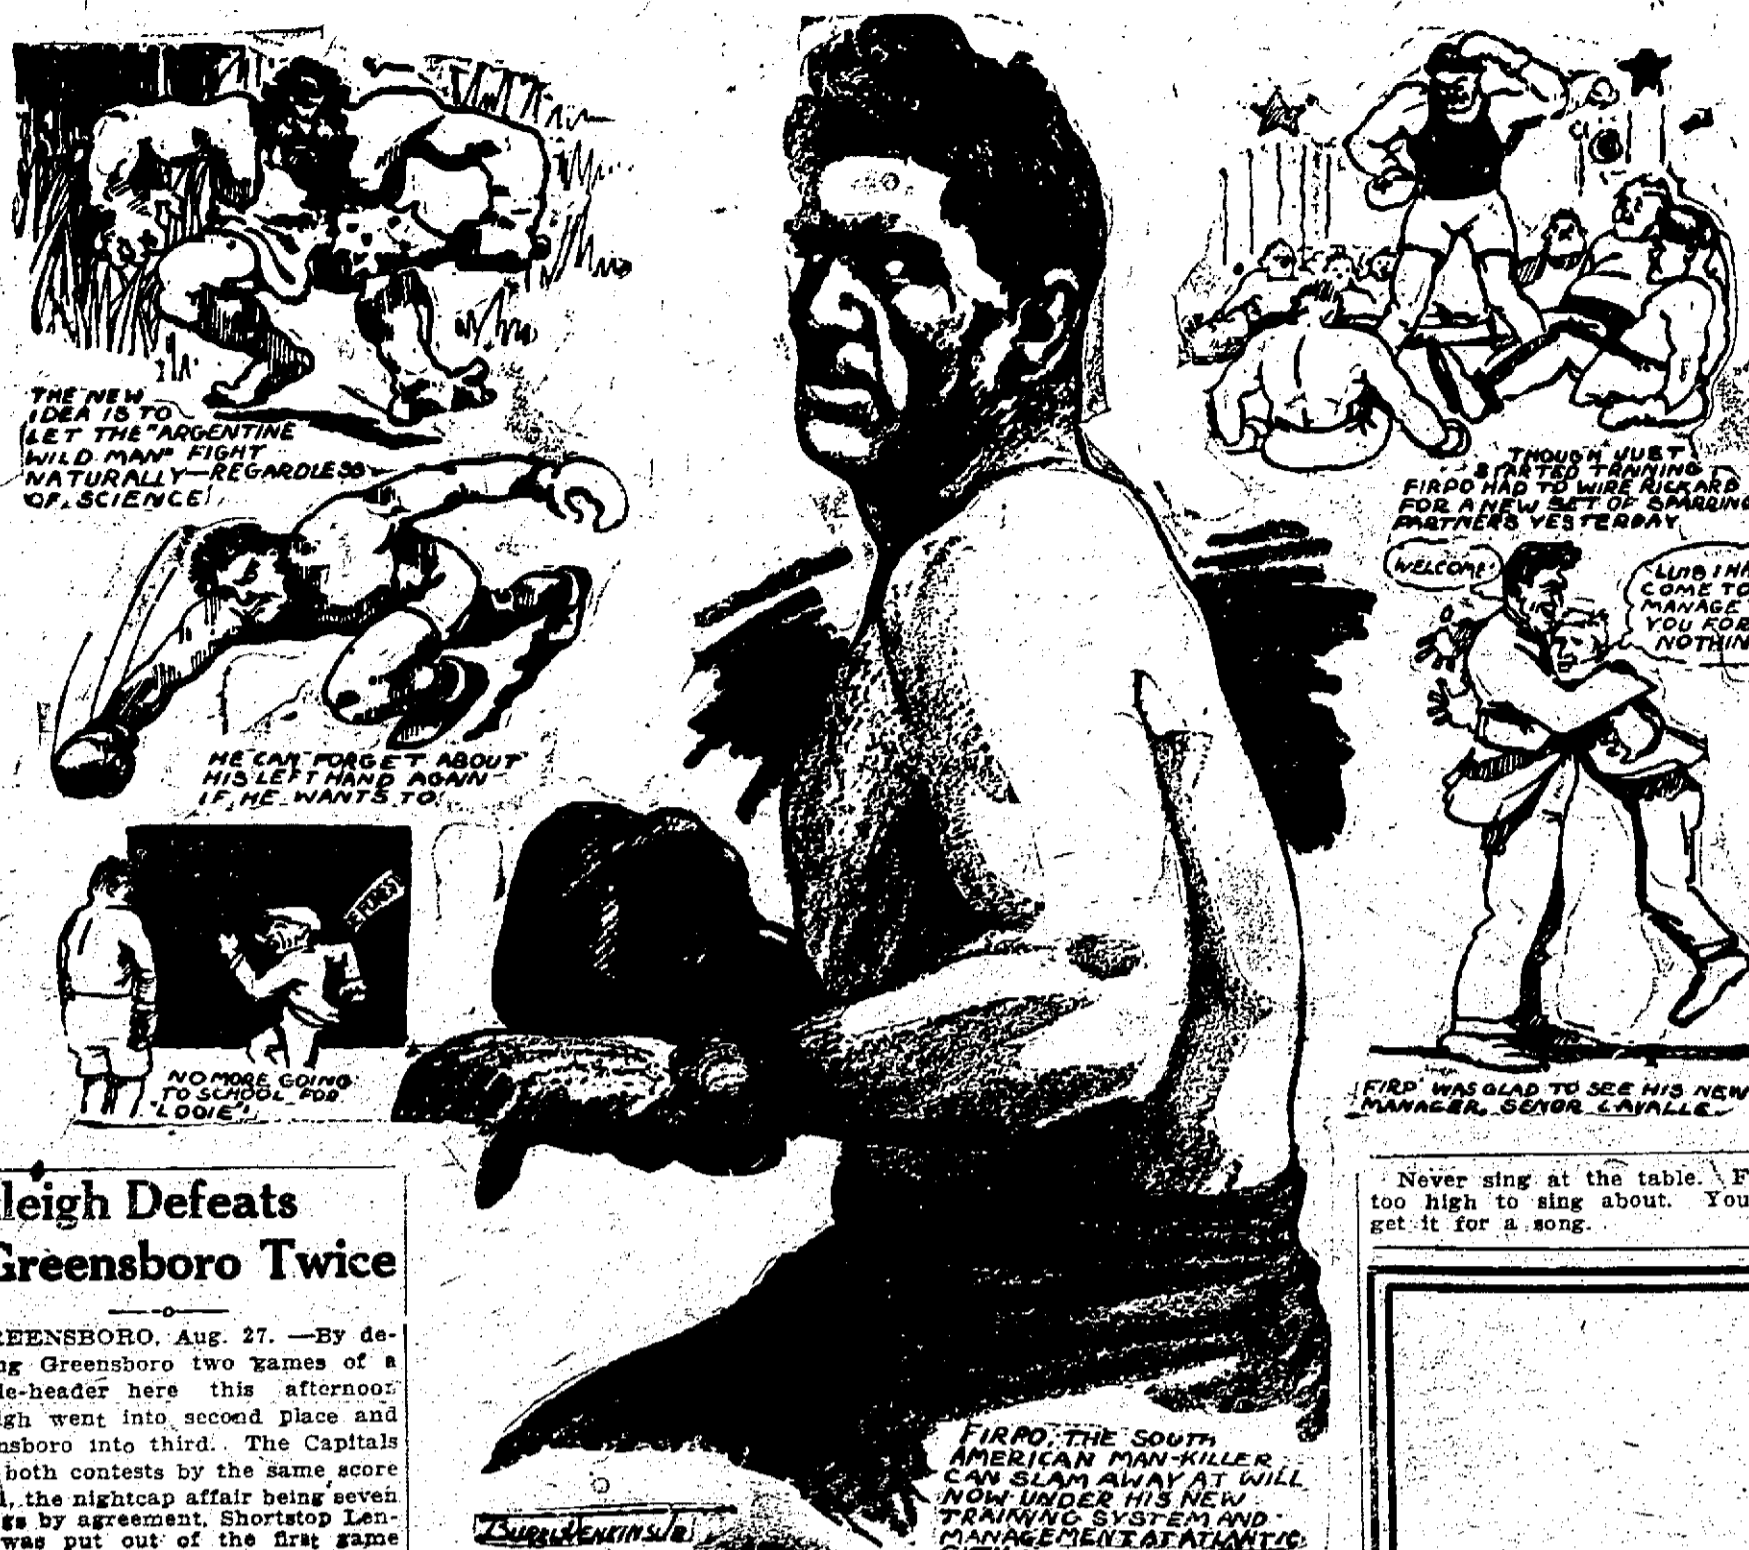

DARING ESCAPE

BY BROTHERS

of the most daring escapes ever recorded in this section took place here tonight when Volney Weaver, 25, and his brother, Lawrence, 18, of Asheville, N. C., handcuffed together leaped through the small window of the lavatory room on a moving Southern Railway passenger train. Up to a late hour tonight no trace of the fleeing prisoners had been found. The two men were convicted sometime ago in Macon county, North Carolina, of breaking and entering a store in that county. They were being transferred from the Macon county jail to the state penitentiary, Raleigh, to serve sentences.

TURNING LUIS LOOSE

By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

Raleigh Defeats Greensboro Twice

GREENSBORO, Aug. 27.—By defeating Greensboro two games of a double-header here this afternoon Raleigh went into second place and Greensboro into third. The Capitals took both contests by the same score 3 to 1, the nightcap affair being seven innings by agreement. Shortstop Lennox was put out of the first game for protesting the decision of Umpire Osborne. Barrett hit a home run for one of Raleigh's runs. The Capitals won the second game in the seventh inning after tying the score in the fifth. Barrett singled, was sacrificed to second by Lennox and scored on Siner's double. Driver was out third but Johnson followed with a double and Siner scored.
The box scores follow:

First Game
Raleigh	AB	R	H	P	O	A	E
Johnson 3b & ss.	4	0	0	3	5	1
Duncan 1b.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan 2b.	4	0	0	2	1	0
Smith 1b.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Graves cf.	4	1	1	3	0	0
Barrett 1b.	3	1	1	12	0	0
Lennox ss.	1	0	0	0	1	0
Dudley rf.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Siner c.	4	0	1	0	3	0
Riel p.	3	0	2	1	0	0
Driver xx.	0	0	0	0	0	0
TOTALS	30	3	5	27	17	1

Second Game
Raleigh	AB	R	H	P	O	A	E
Johnson 3b.	4	0	1	2	1	0
Duncan 1b.	4	0	0	2	0	0
Sullivan 2b.	3	0	2	1	0	0
Smith 1b.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Graves cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Barrett 1b.	3	0	1	7	0	0
Lennox ss.	2	1	1	2	2	2
Siner c.	2	1	1	2	2	2
Driver p.	2	0	1	0	0	0
Keller x.	0	1	0	0	0	0
TOTALS	27	3	7	21	9	3

Third Game
Raleigh	AB	R	H	P	O	A	E
Johnson 3b.	3	0	1	0	0	0
O'Hara 1b.	3	0	0	3	0	0
Cox 1b.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Conley 1b.	3	0	0	4	0	0
Teague 2b.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Graves cf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Magrann ss.	2	0	0	5	3	0
Harris 1b.	2	0	0	0	1	0
Ferris p.	2	0	0	0	1	0
TOTALS	24	0	2	21	8	1

Summary
Sacrifice hits: Lennox. Two-base hits: Johnson, Lennox, Siner, Driver and Shaw. Double plays: Magrann to Cox. Struck out by Driver 1. Bases on balls off: Ferris 1. Time of game: 1:20. Umpires: Osborne and Morgan. Attendance: 650.

RICHMOND WINS

AND BREAKS TIE

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 27.—The three-cornered tie between Richmond, Norfolk and Wilson, for first place in the Virginia League, was broken today when Richmond won two games from Norfolk 4-3 and 3-0, and Wilson gained a victory over Petersburg, the cellar club, 5 to 3. Tonight Richmond was in first place, half a game ahead of Wilson and two games ahead of Norfolk. Rocky Mount was virtually out of the pennant race following its defeat, 4 to 2, at the hands of Portsmouth.

Cub-Sox Series Of 1906 Goes Into Baseball History

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—With Frank Schulte dropping out of the professional baseball ranks this season, the last of the two great Chicago teams that battled for the world's championship in 1906 have quit active participation in the game. True, Frank Chance, of "Peerless Leader" fame, and Pat Moran, of the Red Sox, are in the spotlight of the sport today yet neither covet on the diamond in actual play.
Up to the time that Schulte resigned from the Oakland club of the Coast league, seven of the former stars of the two 1906 teams still had something to do with baseball, however, they were actually playing, however. The others were: Cubs: Chance and Moran, who are managers and John Evers, who was with the White Sox last year. Sox: Nick Altrock, now with Washington but who is on the coaching line and never plays; Frank Ibbell, owner and manager of the Wichita club of the Western league and Ed Walsh, who is now scout and pitchers' coach for the White Sox.

Intimate details of the series remain in the minds of the baseball public to this day, judging by the many reminiscences heard at any gathering of baseball fans. It was remarkable in one respect at least. The underdog had his day. The Cubs came up to the big event hailed as the world beater in every sense of the word, while the White Sox had triumphed in the American league by a scant margin and were known as the "Hitless Wonders." Few, outside of rabid and partisan fans, believed the Sox had a chance to win. But when they did in a most impressive manner. The series was then a five game affair, three wins out of five games deciding the victor.
The Sox won the first, lost the second and won the third, lost the fourth and annexed the world's championship by winning the fifth, and final game. The players on the team consisted of Fielder Jones, manager, late in the season; Jimmie Donohue on playing right field; Jiggs Donohue on first; Frank Ibbell on second; George Roche on third; Lee Tannehill playing short, having been switched over from third when George Davis, the regular shortstop, was injured late in the regular season; Pat Dougherty in center and Eddie Hahn in right with Billy Sullivan behind the bat and Doc White, Ed Walsh, Frank Owens and Nick Altrock on the firing line.

The Cubs were made up of Chance at first; Evers at second; Tinker at short; making that great relay team of "Tinker to Evers to Chance." Harry Steinfield was at third; Jimmy Sheppard in center; Artie Hoffman in left and Frank Schulte in right with Johnny Kling behind the bat, assisted by Pat Moran.
("Three Fingered") Brown, Eddie Reulbach, Jack Pfeister and big Orval Overall doing the twirling.
One man from each team has died. These are Harry Steinfield and Jiggs Donohue.

Of the other "White Sox" Fielder Jones retired from the game only to come back and manage the St. Louis Federals for a time and then go back to his lumber brokerage business in the northwest.
Ibbell is the owner and manager of the Wichita club of the Western league. Roche is in charge of the photograph department of a large drug firm in Cincinnati. Tannehill lives at South Bend, Ind., and is a salesman for a Chicago packing house. George Davis lives at St. Louis and is employed in the assembling plant of an automobile manufacturer. Pat Dougherty is living at Bolivar, N. D., and was only recently a member of the police force there. Eddie Hahn is in the cigar business at Des Moines. Billy Sullivan put his money into fruit and is now reported to own one of the best apple orchards in Oregon. Doc White, who is a dentist, is athletic director and baseball coach at Central High, Washington, D. C. Frank Owen is in the automobile business in Detroit. Ed Walsh is scouting and coaching for the White Sox and Nick Altrock is coaching for the Washington Americans and doing vaudeville stunts for the fans before each game.

Of the Cubs, Chance has made a comeback as manager of the Boston Americans; Evers, who has the distinction of being the last of all of the players to play in major league circles, was with the White Sox last year and is now at his home in Troy, N. Y. Joe Tinker tried his hand at managing but has finally landed at Orlando, Fla., where he is in the real estate business and is reported to be doing nicely. Jimmy Sheppard was in the tobacco business in Columbus, Pa., last winter. Art Hoffman makes Chicago his home and is a traveling salesman.

Schulte played baseball in the Coast league up to last February; Johnny Kling invested his money in real estate and owns and manages a billiard hall in Kansas City; Pat Moran is trying for a pennant with the Reds; Nordie Brown, according to recent reports, was managing a professional baseball team; Jack Pfeister is a highway inspector and works out of Loveland, Ohio; Eddie Reulbach is in the piano business in New York and Orval Overall owns an orange grove at Visalia, Cal.

OTHER BATTLES DRAW ATTENTION

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
BY HARRY NEWMAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo are doing their utmost to usurp the boxing spotlight, fight fans are not overlooking several other arguments to be settled before the next "battle of the century" which Tex Rickard will stage at the Polo Grounds on September 14. The best bet on the undercard is the championship bout between Eugene Coghlan, the Pittsburgh flatter, is occupying a big space on the program. John and Harry will clash on August 31 at the Polo Grounds.

The right after this championship comes the title bout between Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee, which will be staged at Yankee Stadium on September 5. If Dundee can only put a few more pounds of steam behind his blows than he employed in lifting Eugene Coghlan's crown he might smack the clever lightweight monarch for a "trip" and the coronet.

So it goes these days. Just one championship scrap after another. It has been a brisk season for the chamalo shovers. Topping everything of course, is that Dempsey and Firpo row. The Gibbons and Dempsey "bust" has already been forgotten by the fans who are now devoting nearly all their time to the heavyweight contest. With Firpo getting in some smart licks every day at his training camp in Atlantic City and the champion daily knocking over a raft of sparring partners at Tom Luther's place at Saratoga, the whole works is going over big.

KLAN MEMBER IS STILL MISSING

(By The Associated Press.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 27.—Arthur A. Wilburn, of Wilkensburg, near here, a member of the Ku Klux Klan has been missing since the rioting at Carnegie Saturday night, when one man was killed and several others wounded, according to a statement made by Klan officials tonight. An investigation into the man's disappearance when it was learned Sunday morning that he had not returned to his home after the Carnegie disorders.
A close check up of all the members who attended the initiation Saturday night shows Wilburn to be the only one missing, local klansmen said.

Kinks o' The Links

Must a player's ball lie on the green in order for him to have the right to remove some loose impediment that is on the green and which he feels may affect his next shot, possibly prevent him from holding out?

A player has the right to remove loose impediment from the putting green even though his ball does not lie on the green. The rule states that the player has such a right, irrespective of the position of the player's ball. Which would mean that it doesn't matter whether the ball is on the putting green, through the green or in a hazard.

Smith and Jones are playing a handicap match in which Smith is giving Jones a stroke a hole. On a certain hole they both score a 6. Deducting the stroke that Smith is giving him, Jones has a 5 for the hole. Smith had the honor at the hole in question. Does he retain the honor since both had a 6, or does the fact that Jones, less his handicap stroke, had a 5 entitle him to the honor at the next hole?

Jones has the honor at the next hole. The fact that both players made a 6 is given no consideration. Jones, by deducting his stroke allowance, won the hole with a 5 and is entitled to the honor at the next tee.

When a ball is hit by an opponent's ball on the fairway near the ball is dropped or replaced as near as possible to its original position?

It must be dropped. Balls can only be placed on the putting green.

CAVING BRICK WALL KILLS 3

(By The Associated Press.)
DETROIT, Aug. 27.—Three boys were killed today when a brick retaining wall at the Western yard of the city's department of public works caved in. The boys were playing beside the wall when it gave way under pressure of 800 tons of sand and gravel. They were buried under several tons of sand and gravel. The dead are: Louis Frontiero, 7; Alex Kostoff, 9; and Joseph Pondo, 10.

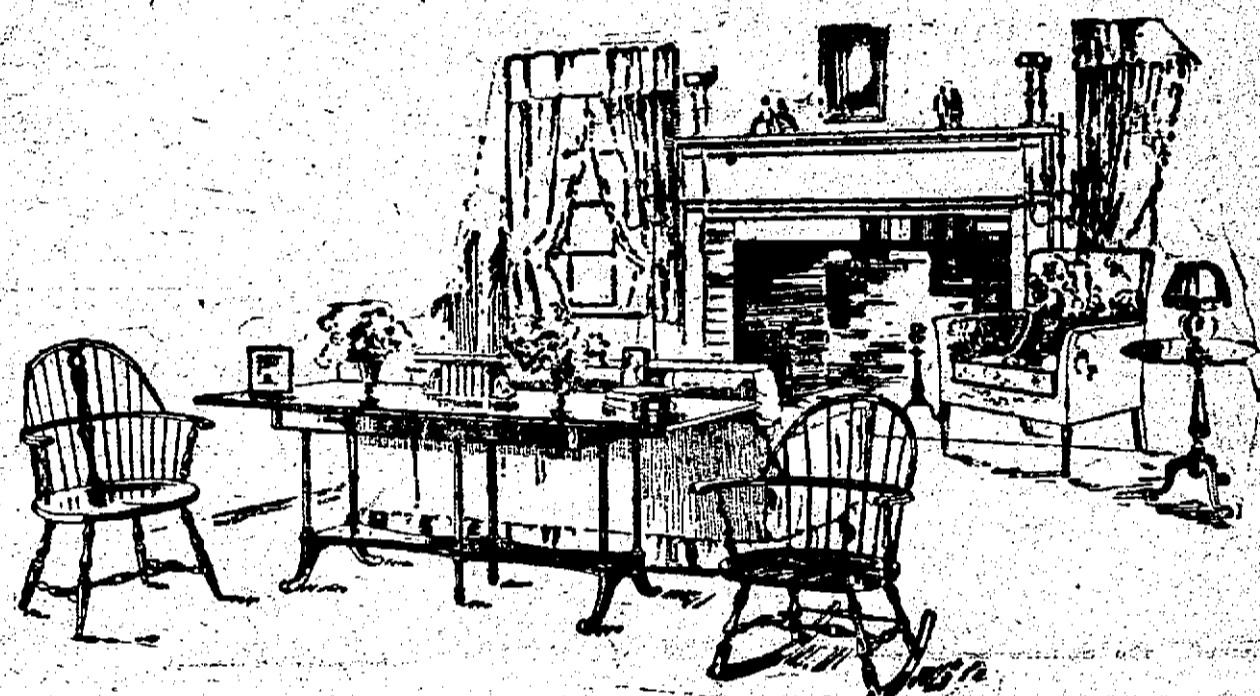

INTERNATIONAL

Syracuse 13-7; Reading 4-8; Rochester 6-2; Baltimore 5-3; Toronto 4-4; Jersey City 3-2; Buffalo 6-0; Newark 7-7.

MRS. JONES LEADS FIELD IN GOLF

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Defying rain and soggy sod, Mrs. Melvina Jones, of Chicago, today led 200 competitors with a fine 41-45-86, two under par in the qualifying round of the women's western golf championship at Cammer Club. Mrs. Dave Gault, of Memphis, defending champion, who qualified by virtue of her title also got in by scoring 84. Virginia Pepp, St. Louis champion, tied for second place at 88 with Dorothy Klotz, of Chicago, while Dorothy Hagble, of Exmore, and Mrs. Lee Mida, also of Chicago, had 89 each.

Musie broadcast by wireless from Glasgow was heard by miners 330 feet below ground, at a distance of 15 miles from the city.

FURNITURE THAT BESPEAKS YOUR HOSPITALITY

And makes your guests want to linger in its pleasant environment. That's just the kind of furniture we want to show you for your living room, we feel that the best is none too good for you so that's why we have selected only that which is good. You'll say so too when you see it and compare the comfortable loose cushion seats as well as the distinctiveness of design and finish. A fine selection of combination cane and mahogany as well as the heavier type of overstuffed at reasonable prices.

Three-Piece cane and mahogany suit, frames all solid mahogany, consisting of full length davenport, wing chair and straight chair. Loose Spring seats covered in excellent grade of velour. Cushions are reversible being plain taupe on one side and figured on the other which makes this a two way suite, a fine piece of workmanship, three pieces only $350.00

Three Piece suite in cane and solid mahogany, reversible loose cushions, covered in blue on the one side and blue and taupe figured on the other, Apartment size Davenport Chair and rocker only $185.00

Three piece overstuffed suits, some hardwood frames and some are solid mahogany, covered in velours and mohairs priced from $175.00 to $600.00

Thinking of Rugs. Then See the Famous ROYAL-KA-SHAN Wiltons.

Many patterns in stock in Jspahan, Kermanshah, Chinese and Japanese designs, many in the wanted colors and sizes. Come in and look them over. Priced in the 9x12 sizes from $155.00 to $175.00

Bledsoe Furniture Co.

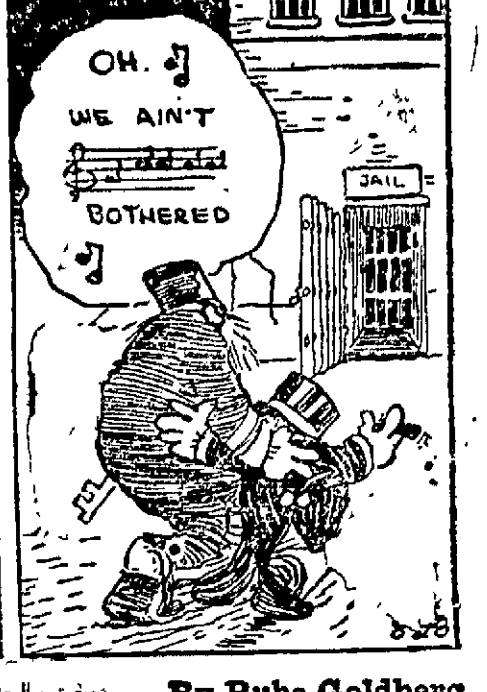

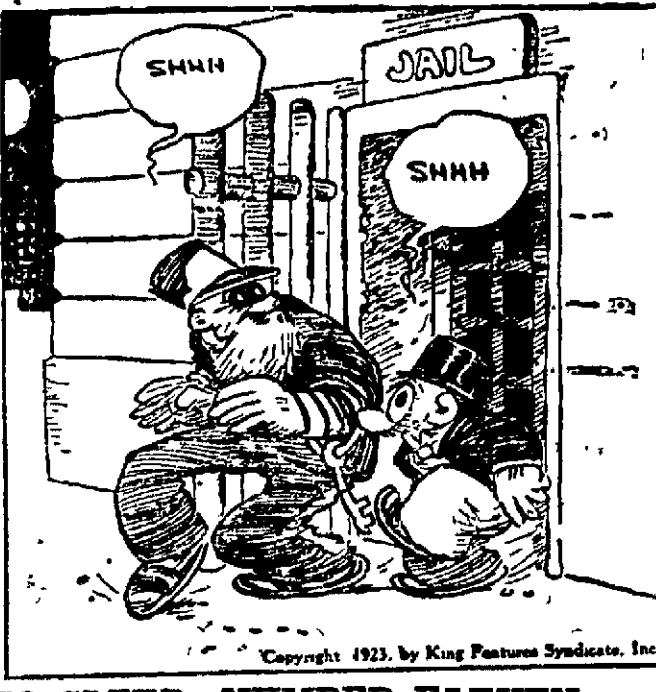

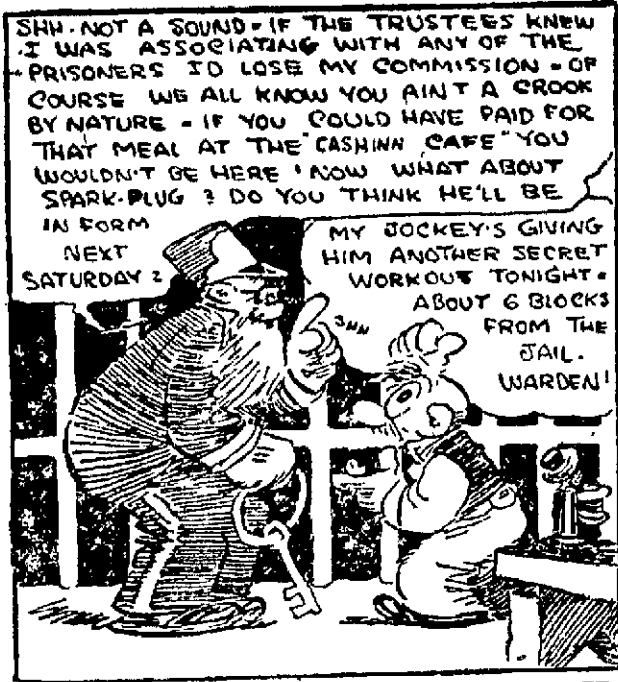

A Page of The Funniest Comics Daily Before You In The Bee

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS
Carrying Out Directions

BARNEY GOOGL

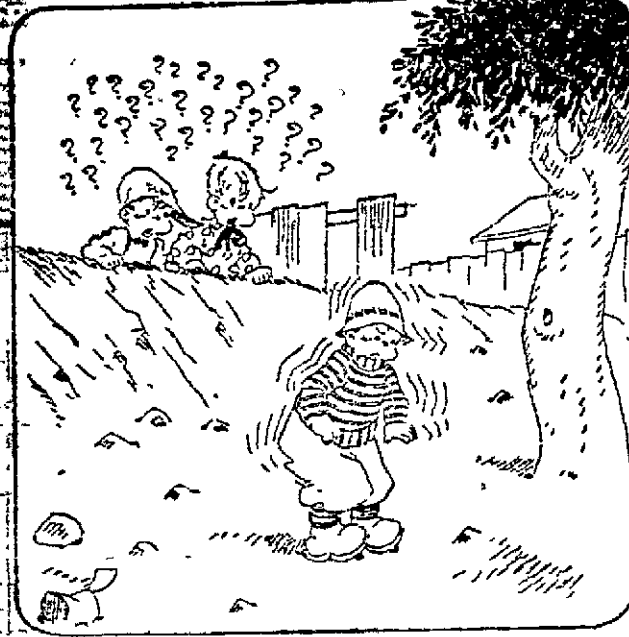

Nothing Could Be More Convincing

By De Beck

PEOPLE WHO PUT YOU TO SLEEP—NUMBER ELEVEN

By Rube Goldberg

IMPORTANT NOTICE!
W. B. Allman, creator of the comic strip "Doings of the Duffs" is confined to his home by illness. Allman has been ailing for several weeks, but has kept up his daily comic strip. Now it becomes a physical impossibility for him to carry on, for the time being. He has been ordered to take absolute rest.

OUT OUR WAY—By Williams

EVERETT TRUE—By Conzo

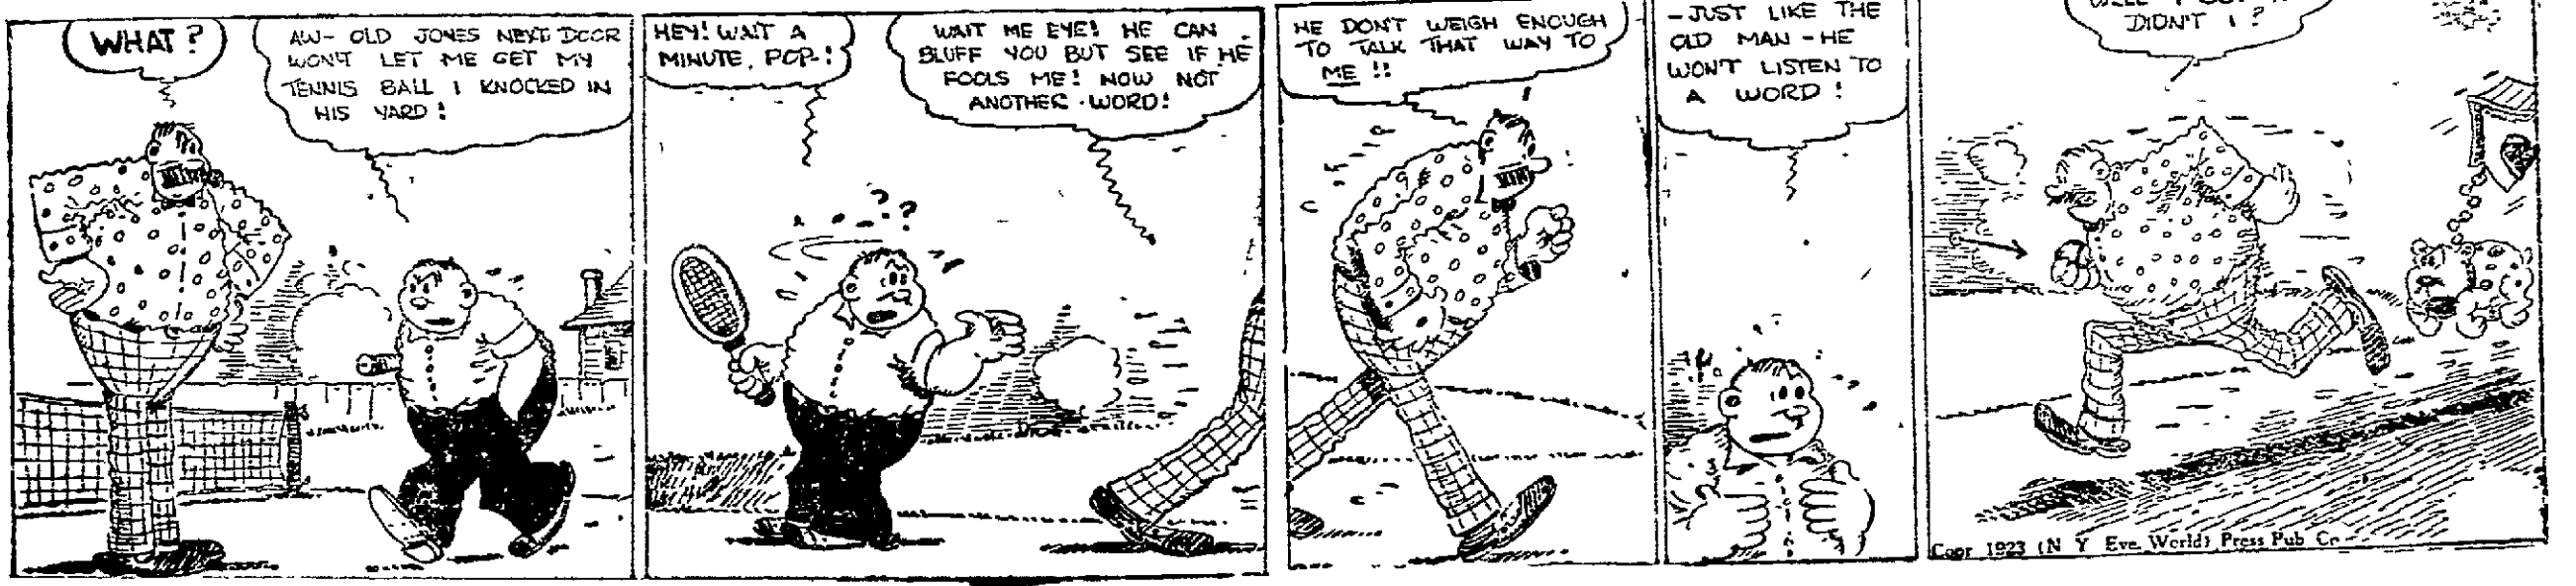

OUR BOARDING HOUSE—By Ahern

OFFICER REILLY

By Ollie Dickman

GENE AHERN

THE MAJORS CONVENIENT MEMORY FOR SCORING

Call
Phone Number
21.

Your Wants - All of Them - Supplied Here

WANT AD PAGE

Call
Phone
Number
21.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

GOING TO LYNCHBURG, $2.75. Cabell Street Sunday school will operate train to Lynchburg Thursday, August 30th. Round trip $2.75. Reserved seat car $50 extra. E. G. Mosely, W. L. Norton, J. E. Scruggs, Committee. Passengers taken on at Chatham. 8-26R&B101

WHY NOT REDUCE? The Vit-o-let is the most pleasant way imaginable. No starving or discomfort. Treatment at home or at Beauty Shop, 405 Main St. phone 825. 8-26R&B101

THE BEST IS ALWAYS the cheapest. Call 150 Farley Pkg. & Heating Co. Contractors and Engineers. W. R.

R. R. EDMUNDS & COMPANY. Heating and Plumbing, 151 Craghead Street. Phone 2137 and 1367. R&B1.

CALL HARRIS COAL CO. For good coal—honest weights—Phone 1748. 8-26R&B1 yr

BATTERIES CHARGED, RENTED, sold and exchanged with guarantee. Auto Storage Battery Co. G. W. Aaron, Lower Loyal St. Phone 2130. 8-26R&B1 mo

INSURANCE UNDERWRITERS have reduced all forms of collision insurance 10 per cent. on the new Buicks with 4 wheel brakes. Come in and see it. H. A. Valley Motor Co. 8-27 B&R 61

PLUMBING & HEATING—Fred D. Anderson 500 Bridge street, Phone 708. 1-10B&R12

FINE LOT 'RED CROSS' and other mattresses at prices to suit all. Nothing nicer to sleep on than the "Red Cross" Felts. Benefield-Motley & Co. 8-25B thu, sat, tu, thu.

WAGONS FOR SALE. One and two-horse farm wagons; two spring delivery wagons; prices right. Danville Wagon Co. 10-22 R sun, wed, fri, R tu, thu, sat, su

SERIOUS RIOTS OCCUR IN INDIA (By The Associated Press.)

SIMLA, India, Aug. 27.—Serious riots, resulting in numerous casualties and much destruction of property, occurred Friday at Saharanpur and Gonda, in the United Provinces, at the close of the Muharram religious to quell the crowds only by the use of firearms.

Minor disturbances occurred in Calcutta, Amritsar, Allahabad and Nellore, between the Sunnites and Shites.

The rioting at Saharanpur was caused by the Mohammedans looting of branches of the Hindustani National Congress in a Hindu temple. These branches were hung the road and the Mohammedans claimed, interfered with the carrying of their processional flags. The Hindu resistance, whereupon the temple was attacked and many shops looted.

The tension is high, but the authorities have the situation in hand.

POOR RUDY—LONDON, Aug. 27.—Since Rodolph Valentino and wife have been so pestered by newspaper reporters and photographers in England, they plan to visit Italy for a real honeymoon.

PEG TOPS IN—The peg top is one of the interesting alliterations. In one model it is developed in brown and white checked taffeta with bustle ripples of ecru lace at the back.

Is She From Britain, France Or U. S.? Tell By Her Feet

BY MILTON BRONNER (Special to The Bee.)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—"Slender ankles and small feet—American girls."

"Slender ankles and broad feet—French girls."

"Thick ankles and thick feet—English girls."

So says Miss Caroline Nunder. And furthermore:

"American girls dress so that their clothes match the trimness of their figures and the loveliness of their faces."

"French girls, in spite of their tendency to be broad in proportion to their height, nevertheless dress so that they are not."

"English girls dress like frumps."

And who has a better right to say all this than Miss Caroline?

But, meet the young lady. She's 24 and very pretty and slender with a bunch of fair bobbed hair and big hazel eyes. And she's no idler. She didn't start on a shoestring. She started almost on a spool of thread, a thimble and a brain full of ideas.

And she now is a sort of super-dress-maker of New York even though she is a mere kid.

Three years ago she found herself almost plump smack up against it. Her father, a Buffalo man, died leaving her the fortune that had been expected but a few hundred dollars.

Miss Nunder's sister was not very well, so she puts it—"It was up to Caroline."

With real Yankee pluck she went to New York City, got a showroom in 48th street, told all her friends she was in the dressmaking business and waited. She didn't have to wait long. Her friends were mainly young people and they could wear the same kind of clothes she did.

That gave her a big idea. She did away with the mannequin business. Miss Nunder became her own manager. At dinner parties and dances and theater she wore some of her latest creations. The next day she sold them and set about designing new ones.

Now they whisper she has an income that runs into five figures and she probably is no longer a mere kid.

She picks and chooses her customers. materials that young people can wear. She's over here in the Old World having the time of her life studying English and French girls and their styles.

BEST PRICES

Auto Tire Sales Co., 514 Loyal St. Phone 529. Tires, Tubes, gas, oils and Accessories. Open until midnight. 8-30-22 B1Y7

SAVE OUR TICKETS AND GET free work. We do all family wash. Phone 521 for wagon. Wet Wash Laundry. 5-7 B 12

CLOTHES WASHED 5c lb. Sent for and delivered. Phone 1822. Danville Wash Laundry, 212 N. Union St. We give 5c & H. stamps. 12-27 B1Y

FOR SALE—AT A BARGAIN one little brown mare and Babcock buggy. J. A. Motley, 821 Paxton Ave. 8-23B1Y

FOR SALE—NICE CAFE, DOING fine business in good town. Owner desires to make change on account of his health. Address, M. R. Flynn, Attorney for owner, City. 8-23B1Y

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, September 3. Day and night school. Our office is open during business hours each day and will be open Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week from 7 to 9 for the convenience of those who cannot call during the day. See us now in regard to your course and arrange to start with our September classes. Danville Commercial College. 8-26R11 B1Y

MASON GLASS FRUIT Jars, Tops and Rubbers for same, also Stone Preserving Jars, all sizes. Benefield-Motley & Co. 5-22B thu, sat, tu, thu.

HAULING—PACKING We do all kinds of hauling, moving, packing. Rates reasonable. Shubert, phone 2229-J. 8-25 B 101

FOR SALE—AUTOMOBILES GOOD BARGAINS IN USED CARS: 1 Buick 7-passenger, 1920 model, $500. 1 Buick 7-passenger, 1918 model, $450. 1 Ford sedan. All of these cars are in good running condition. DAN VALLEY MOTOR CO., 204 N. Main St. Phone 204. 8-25 B 31

HAVE YOU SEEN THE 1924 model Buick with 4 wheel brakes. Price 204 for demonstration. Dan Valley Motor Co. 8-23B&R101

WE HAVE SEVERAL USED Ford in good running condition. The price is right on these cars. Dan Valley Motor Co. 8-27 B&R 21

FIVE MEN MAKE THEIR GETAWAY FROM CO. JAIL

AMHERST, Va., Aug. 27.—Five white men, three of whom were serving light sentences for misdemeanors and two who were awaiting trial on a charge of housebreaking, escaped from the Amherst jail sometime Friday night, by cutting the bar of their cell with a hack saw. The escape was discovered this morning.

Emmett Massie, a mere youth, was arrested on a charge of aiding the prisoners to escape by furnishing them with the saw. He is alleged to have purchased from a local wagon company a saw similar to that used by the prisoners. The youth was arraigned before Magistrate W. W. Gilbert, late today and held in $2,000 pending grand jury investigation of the case. He failed to make the bond and was remanded to jail.

The prisoners who escaped were: Bennett Austin, serving six months for using automobile without consent of owner.

Lyle Skinner and Albert Oliver, serving thirty days for trespass.

James Brown and J. P. McCarthy, awaiting trial on charges of housebreaking.

Brown and McCarthy are reported to have been apprehended at Salisbury, N. C.

Want Ad Rates

THIS SIZE TYPE
140 a Word Register or Bee
5 a Word Register and Bee

THIS SIZE TYPE
15c a Line Register or Bee
25c a Line Register and Bee

MINIMUM CHARGE:
Register or Bee 25c
Register and Bee 40c

DISCOUNTS:
10 Times 5 per cent.
25 Times 10 per cent.
6 Months 15 per cent.
12 Months 20 per cent.

Combination Rates and Discounts apply to consecutive insertions only.

All Want Ads are payable in advance.

Want Ads the cheapest way to reach all the people. The Register and Bee have over

75,000 Daily Readers

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE: ONE LOT 1 1/4 INCH pipe; practically new. E. Kiam, 309 Loyal Street. Phone 988. 8-6 R&B 1Y

Buy Your Tobacco Flues thermometers and lanterns from Union Hardware Co. 8-9R&B1mo

FOR SALE, CHEAP—NO-KOL oil burner for furnace heating. Phone 141-J. 8-25 B&R 1Y

FOR SALE—3-ROOM HOUSE good orchard, garden, light, water and sewerage. Apply 305 James St. 8-27 B&R 31

FOR SALE: 5 ROOM HOUSE with all modern conveniences, 824 Stokes street. Will sell cheap for quick sale. Call Phone 1524. 8-25R&B31

FOR SALE—HOUSES THREE-ROOM HOUSE AND ONE acre of land. Price $1,250. $200 cash, balance by the week or month. Phone Fowler at 124, Gravelly Bros. 8-27B 41

FORD COUPE FOR SALE in good condition. Telephone 836-1490-W. A. Leftwich. 8-27 B21

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS WANTED BY COUPLE WITH-OUT children, two or three steam-heated rooms. References exchanged. Phone 751. 8-27 B31

WANTED BY COUPLE WITH one child, three to five unfurnished rooms in best locality. Phone 717. 8-27 B31

OVER MILLION EGGS SEIZED AS UNFIT FOR FOOD

(By Chicago Tribune Service.) CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—More than been seized here by government agents in the last two weeks; on the ground that they were unfit for food. These eggs were shipped in from Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, south Dakota and Missouri and were found in the hands of twenty-two South Water street commission merchants.

The government agents announce they will prosecute the consignments under the pure food act.

Complaints were received about two weeks ago from women that eggs they were buying and cakes from neighboring bakeries had a peculiar taste and this led to the investigation and confiscation of the numerous shipments.

An airplane with a salon for 25 passengers has been designed with the whole body enclosed in the wings so that it is all lifting surface.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN. Experienced and qualified in office work. Must write a rapid and legible hand. be quick at figures, use the typewriter and know office details. A knowledge of bookkeeping would be desirable. Address, stating age and minimum salary desired, and give a complete list of former positions. Box 1111. 8-27 B&R 31

WANTED: POSITION AS CLERK or for clerical work by CAPMAN Best of references. Address "Clerk" care Bee. 7-26R&B1Y

WANTED—LABORERS. Construction work, Martinsville road. Truck leaves Spring and Union Sts. mornings. Apply Allport Construction Corp. 8-25 B 1Y

WE NEED MANY TEACHERS for positions now open. Results guaranteed. Executives' Employment Agency, Teachers' Department, Charlotte, N. C. 8-22 B71

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED housemaid. Mrs. J. M. Edmunds, 636 Holbrook Ave. 8-27 B21

WANTED—FOR DANVILLE AND surrounding territory, two special agents to represent one of the oldest health and accident companies in the business. We sell health and accident insurance on the monthly, quarterly, semi-annually and annual basis. We sell a high-class policy for all employed people, and a special contract for business and professional people, both men and women. We have a liberal and permanent contract for two live men. Answer Box 832, Roanoke, Virginia. 8-25 B41

FRUIT TREES SALESMEN—PROF- itable, pleasant and annual work. Good side line for farmers, teachers and others. Permanent job for good workers. Write for terms. Concord Nurseries, Dept. 238, Concord, Ga. 8-27 B 121

WANTED—AUTOMOBILE CON- cern desires experienced bookkeeper, preferably married man. Apply in own handwriting. Address P. O. Box 607, Danville, Va. 8-28 B&R 21

WANTED—2 HORSE DRIVER, sawmill hands, 22 1-2 and 25c hour. Apply J. T. Guill, 1311 N. Main St. 8-27 B&R 1Y

FOR SALE—NEW OTTAWA GAS and oil engine, 7 h. p., stationary, magneto, clutch, pulley. Will mount if preferred. J. E. Martin, Axton, Va. phone 1731-B. 8-26R&B21

LOST AND FOUND. LOST—IN BUSINESS SECTION of town, roll of money containing about $100.00 in bills as follows: 2 $50.00 bills, 10 $10.00 bills. Rewards if returned to J. H. Lynch, Rt. 3, city. 8-28 R&B

LOST—ON BRADLEY ROAD North Main St. rear lamp and license tag No. G24051. Reward if returned to Traffic Motor Co. 8-27 B&R

PUSH WOMAN FOR MAYOR (By The Associated Press.)

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 27.—Businessmen of West Hoboken have started a boom to nominate and elect Mrs. Evangeline Duff, a grandmother who has made a success of her life, mayor of West Hoboken this Fall.

Mrs. Duff is willing.

Her candidacy in September's primaries on the democratic ticket will not be Mrs. Duff's first venture in public affairs. She is health commissioner of her city.

"I will advocate a reduction of taxes and a reduction of rents," said Mrs. Duff today.

For several years Mrs. Duff, a widow has made a good living as a promoter of women's styles, and of style shows in which her ideas of feminine apparel have been expressed.

Mrs. Duff, it was said today, will be the first woman in New Jersey to run for mayor.

"Women can keep house better than men, and a mayor is merely housekeeper on a large scale," says Mrs. Duff.

"ORDER PUBLICATION" Issued by order of the Clerk of the Corporation Court of Danville, entered on the 14th day of August, 1923.

VIRGINIA. In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Danville, on the 14th day of August, 1923.

Elector Carter Plaintiff against Frances Carter Defendant

IN CHANCERY The object of this suit is to obtain from the said Court a decree divorcing the plaintiff, Elector Carter, a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, Frances Carter, on the grounds of desertion and adultery.

And an affidavit having been made and duly filed that the said defendant, Frances Carter, is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, it is therefore ordered that she do appear here, within ten days after due publication of this order once a week for four successive weeks in The Bee a newspaper published in the City of Danville, Virginia, and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

A Copy Teste: OTIS BRADLEY, Clerk. Harry Wooding, Jr. F. C. 8-14B thu 41.

"ORDER PUBLICATION" Issued by order of the Clerk of the Corporation Court of Danville, on the 14th day of August, 1923.

VIRGINIA. In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Danville, on the 14th day of August, 1923.

William L. Martin Plaintiff against Ida May Martin Defendant

IN CHANCERY The object of this suit is to obtain from the said Court a decree divorcing the plaintiff, William L. Martin, a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, Ida May Martin, on the grounds of desertion.

And an affidavit having been made and duly filed that the said defendant, Ida May Martin, is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, it is therefore ordered that she do appear here, within ten days after due publication of this order once a week for four successive weeks in The Bee a newspaper published in the City of Danville, Virginia, and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

A Copy Teste: OTIS BRADLEY, Clerk. Harry Wooding, Jr. F. C. 8-14B thu 41.

FOR RENT—

FOR RENT—ONE 3 ROOMS AND Two 4-Room Dwellings on West End of my farm, about 3-4 mile south of town. J. A. Motley, 821 Paxton Ave. 8-23B1Y

FOR RENT ON DAME ST.—ONE cottage and one apartment, 4 rooms and bath each. Apply Mrs. J. Beriman, 675 Wilson. 8-27 B21

FOR RENT—FIVE-ROOM HOUSE Gas, bath and lights, Jefferson St. Ext. Possession Sept. 15. For information phone 1552. 8-23B1Y

GARAGE FOR RENT—AT ONCE Opposite Stonewall Apts. 888 Main Street. 8-23B1Y

FOR SALE—HOUSES FOR SALE OR RENT: NEW Cottage on Clement avenue. Apply Lewis Furniture Co. 8-26R10B1Y

ROOM AND BOARD ROOM and BOARD ALSO rooms for light housekeeping. 214 So. Ridge St. Phone 1768-W. 8-25 B31

ROOM AND BOARD REASON- able at 121 Gray St. or rooms for rent partly furnished. 8-27 B&R 1Y

SITUATIONS WANTED. WANTED—POSITION, GENERAL clerical work, knowledge of book-keeping and typewriting. References furnished. H. B. C. care Bee. 8-27 B&R 1Y

FOR RENT—ROOMS FOR RENT—UNFURNISHED apartment. Apply 848 Main street. 8-27 B 5-1

2 UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR rent to couple without children. 103 Stokes St. Phone 861-W. 8-23R&B 1Y

FOR RENT TWO LARGE rooms and kitchenette. Water, gas, electric lights, bath and telephone. 1227 E. Main St. Phone 1441. 8-23 B&R 21

FOR RENT—HOUSES FOR RENT—NEW 4-ROOM house, Corner Monument and Cabell Sts. J. T. Luff, phone 18-J. 8-22 B&R 1Y

FOR RENT—FOUR ROOM HOUSE on White Oak street. Apply Dugan Shoe Store. 8-27 B&R 31

FOR RENT—APARTMENTS FOR RENT: GREEN PARK apartment. Phone 364. John B. Anderson. 8-25R&B31

HELP WANTED—FEMALE WANTED—AT AVERETT COLLEGE several reliable colored women to clean buildings. Aug. 23 11R&B

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE AT BARGAIN—1 heater, 1 bed, springs and mattress, dresser, library-table, 2 small tables, 4 cokers, 3 chairs, 1 refrigerator, 5 window screens. Call at 849 Main St. 8-27-B & R 31

CRIMSON CLOVER, NEW CRIP- seed has arrived. Jas. L. Pritchett & Son. 8-27 B&R 31

NORFOLK MAN FOUND MURDERED CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—Horace Hamilton, of Norfolk, Va., was found dead, his face badly beaten, at the foot of a stairway leading to the basement of Cleveland's $10,000 public hall today. His hands were marked with knife cuts. In one pocket was found an open jack knife. Police believe he was attacked elsewhere and his body dragged to the staircase. He was last seen alive yesterday morning.

Average price 20 Industrials 91.92 off 12.20 rails 78.92 up .07.

CAR STORAGE Can take care of a number of cars for storage. U-Drive-It Company Rear Leeland Hotel. Phone 11-87

EXIDE STORAGE BATTERIES AND SERVICE. John R. Bendall O.K. Service Station Phone 2092 Patton, Bridge and Main.

GASOLINE ALLEY Starting Thursday, Aug. 30th In THE BEE

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

WALT, BACHELOR, KINDLY, EASY AND THE ADOPTED PARENT OF SKEEZIX. AS TO MATRIMONY— SAY! HE KNOWS WHEN HE'S WELL-OFF!

FARM FOR SALE.

